COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1910.—TWELVE PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

$16,770 PLEDGED BY LOCAL CHURCHES FOR MISSIONS

Sum More Than Double Amount Contributed to Foreign Fields Last Year.

MEN NEEDED AT FRONT

Missionaries at Closing Session Make Appeals for Workers to Enter the Ranks.

With more than double the amount of contributions given last year to foreign missionary work pledged as the aim for the coming year by churches of the Pikes Peak region, those in charge of the laymen's missionary convention which closed last night feel that the efforts expended here have not been in vain. The reports made by the different denominations at the last session at the First Methodist church last night showed that the total amount pledged by the local church people for 1910 amounts to $16,770, not including the Episcopal, Evangelical and Friends churches, the reports from which have not been received. The following comparative table shows the greatly increased interest taken in foreign missions.

Denominations.	Amts. to be contributed during coming year.	Amounts contributed last year.
Baptists	$2,096	$800
Christian	870	280
Congregational	2,250	1,100
Episcopal	(No report)	550
Evangelical	(No report)	27
Friends	(No report)	40
Lutheran	$150	73
Methodist-Episcopal	3,024	1,300
United Presbyterian	450	265
Presbyterian	5,850	2,100
United Brethren	100	10
Y. M. C. A.	2,000	1,098
Totals	$16,770	$8,158

The $1,000 increase in the contribution of the Young Men's Christian association will be sufficient to defray the total expenses of Philip Gillett, a Colorado Springs missionary worker who has charge of the Y. M. C. A. in Seoul, Korea.

Resolutions Adopted.

Resolutions recommending that contributions of last year be doubled and outlining a plan of foreign missionary campaign in the city were presented at yesterday morning's session by the co-operating committee that had charge of the convention and was acted upon by the various denominations at denominational rallies held at noon. At last night's meeting the resolutions were unanimously adopted. The recommendation of the co-operating committee that a committee be appointed to carry on the work in Colorado Springs, Colorado City, Manitou and adjacent territory was also adopted. This committee is composed of Professor M. C. Gile, who was chairman of the co-operating committee, E. T. Heald, who was secretary, Dr. J. R. Robinson, Dean F. S. Parsons of Colorado College, Professor H. F. Smith, Dr. A. C. Blackman, C. E. Emery, O. F. Dubach, T. P. Barber, R. L. Chadwick, R. C. Cook, C. P. Dodge, Irving Bonbright, C. B. Hall, J. R. Armstrong and John Lennox.

The resolutions follow in full.

Missionary policy of the churches of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou and adjacent territory, as adopted by co-operating committee of the Laymen's Missionary movement.

RESOLVED,

1st. That we recognize it as the present duty of the church to undertake the evangelization of the world in this generation.

2nd. That we rejoice that the laymen of all churches are rising up in increasing numbers and fidelity to co-operate with existing agencies for immediate world evangelization.

3rd. That we unite our efforts and prayers in an aggressive and persistent attempt to enlist the men of mid-

DENVER NOW AROUSED

1,500 Attend Banquet Formally Opening Missionary Movement in Northern Colorado.

DENVER, March 3.—Approximately 1,500 covers were laid at the banquet in El Jebel temple tonight, which formally opened the convention here of the laymen's missionary movement. James D. Husted presided. Invocation was made by Rt. Rev. Henry W. Warren, bishop of Colorado diocese of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Governor Shafroth delivered the welcoming address. Among the speakers was Rev. Isaac Taylor Headland of Pekin, China.

Tomorrow at Central Presbyterian church missionaries from all parts of the world will give a survey of the world field, and for the two days of the convention many prominent workers in the attempt to Christianize the world in this generation have been engaged to make addresses.

The banquet tonight brought together the Denver men who are interested and also guests from towns in the northern part of the state, the Denver meeting being for the district north of Palmer Lake and east of the divide.

BEAUTIFUL PARKWAY IN BUSINESS SECTION

IMPROVEMENT PLANNED FOR PIKES PEAK AVENUE.

By Reducing Paving Area Expense Will Be no More Than Without Added Attraction.

Colorado Springs is to have the "civic center" idea carried out on Pikes Peak avenue, from the Antlers hotel to Nevada avenue, and in such a way that the handsome improvement can be made without additional cost according to the plans of prominent business men, including E. W. Giddings, Irving Howbert and others interested in the progress of the community. Briefly, it is figured that the space taken up on Pikes Peak avenue by the "civic center" improvements will reduce the area to be paved on that thoroughfare, and the amount thus saved can be applied to the cost of the projected beautification.

The proposition will shortly be submitted to the Real Estate exchange, Chamber of Commerce and oher civic organizations. The plan does not involve the widening of the sidewalks on Pikes Peak avenue, but it is proposed to park and curb a strip 25 feet wide in the center of the avenue, leaving a thoroughfare of about 40 feet on each side. Openings will be left across the parked center, in addition to the regular street intersections, so that vehicles can cross from one side of the street to the other without going to the end of the block.

Among the admirable features included in the projected improvement are curved stone seats on a tiled floor at the main street intersections, for the benefit of the public, and two steel lighting posts of ornamental design at the outer corners of these stone seats, or exedrae. These will do away with the unsightly arc lamps and overhanging wires. The plots of grass exedrae are to be bordered with shrubbery with trees bordering the grass in the other portions of the parked section.

Site for Palmer Statue.

Of particular interest at this time, in view of the movement toward the erection of a bronze statue in honor of the late General W. J. Palmer, is the plan to place the statue at the east end of the parked district, or at the intersection of Pikes Peak and Nevada avenues. A rectangular basin of water is planned for the west end or in front of the Antlers hotel and inside of the parked area, is proposed. Another feature, both ornamental and practical, is that of "kiosks" or roofed structures at the intersection of the area with Tejon street. These structures open at the sides would be of great service to the public in stormy weather, and the city would also derive a revenue by renting parts of the buildings as news stands.

Although the plan would necessitate the vacation of the two blocks on Pikes Peak avenue by the street car company, the company could probably easily arrange to double track its line on Huerfano street from Cascade to Nevada, and, if a loop were necessary, one could be made around the block in which the new postoffice is located, instead of around that where the present postoffice building stands.

MOB LED BY NEGRO LYNCHES BLACK MAN

Prisoner Seized in Court, Thrown From Window, Dragged Through Streets and Hanged.

DALLAS, Tex., March 3.—From the very grasp of the law, Allen Brooks, an aged negro, charged with criminally assaulting a two-year-old white child, was torn by the members of a mob of 5,000 men today and hanged for this crime.

Brooks was seized in the court room where he was to be tried and tossed through a window to the main body of the mob which waited in the street below. His bruised body was dragged through the streets and he was hanged near the Elks arch. The mob was led by an old negro. Hardly a word was spoken, not a shot was fired, the loudest sound was the aged negro's shrieks for mercy.

After Brooks was hanged, Dallas for nearly three hours was in the hands of the mob. The jail was stormed and death was threatened to three other negroes held on charges of murder. They had been taken away, however, and after searching for them in vain the mob dispersed.

Immediately after his arrest last week Brooks was taken out of the city for safe keeping. He was returned early this morning and taken to the court house to await his trial in the criminal court. A great crowd gathered early and when attorneys for the defense, who had been appointed by the court, began arguments in behalf of a postponement of the trial until tomorrow, rumors started through the crowd that a change of venue had been granted.

This statement caused a demonstration and the court house was charged by the mob. Scores of officers were overpowered, the locked doors of the court room were wrecked and the negro, crouching in a corner and praying, was seized.

DISMISSED OFFICERS RESTORED TO DUTY

PUEBLO, March 3.—A peculiar situation in the police muddle developed when Samuel Shurtz, George Hilbart, Al Wood and others recently dismissed by Mayor Fugard "for the good of the service" were all restored to duty this morning so that the reorganized police force stands as a man just as it did before the reorganization.

FEEDING OUT OF AN OLD TROUGH

MAYOR POINTS WAY TO SETTLE STRIKE

COURT MAY BE ASKED TO APPOINT ARBITRATORS.

Philadelphia Car Men Adopt This Plan in Hope of Averting a General Walkout.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The first step toward having the differences between the striking street car men and the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company settled under authority of the courts and thus prevent the impending gigantic sympathetic strike was taken tonight by the car men. An attorney representing the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes wrote to President Kruger of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, asking that he join in application to the courts under the act of 1893 for the appointment of a board of arbitration. A reply is requested before noon tomorrow.

Before the receipt of the communication, President Kruger was shown a copy of the law by representatives of the United Businessmen's association, who asked him if the officials of the company would abide by it. He replied "Certainly the company will submit to law."

The action of the car men's attorney followed the suggestion of Mayor Reyburn, who in his message to city councils today stated that the courts of law are available for the redress of any real grievance which may exist between the Rapid Transit company and its employes."

The act of 1893 provides for a board of arbitration of nine persons, three to be chosen by each side and three by the court. While a penalty is provided for the punishment of any one who refuses to testify to the board, no distinct method is set forth for the enforcement of its decree.

That the councils were in entire accord with the views of the mayor was made evident by the absence of any motion or discussion relative to the crisis. Several petitions from business men's associations and trade organizations bearing on the strike, were heard without comment. A resolution from the Central Labor union signed by John J. Murphy, the president, requesting arbitration was introduced in the common council by James Clough, "by request" as he explained. It was referred to the law committee.

In select council, Thomas MacFarland presented a resolution instructing Mayor Reyburn, William H. Carpenter and George H. Earle, the city's representatives on the traction directorate, to demand that the company arbitrate. It was promptly tabled.

In a riot tonight, two cars on the Bridesburg line were badly damaged by bricks and stones. Police dispersed the rioters.

The carpenters and joiners union, with a membership of five thousand, vote tonight to strike tomorrow at midnight if the car men's strike has not then reached a settlement.

SMITH INHERITANCE TAX CASE DECIDED

DENVER, March 3.—State Coal Mine Inspector John D. Jones drew no pay from the state for last month's work and his voucher was pinned together with others that have been held up by the auditor because the persons concerned have not complied with his idea of the law. Jones admits that he traveled on passes and Kenehan does not believe he should collect mileage from the state.

OHIO FLOODS SUBSIDING

CLEVELAND, O., March 3.—The floods that have swept over the villages and farms of Ohio, began to subside today bringing hope to thousands who have been driven from their homes by rising waters.

23 MINERS KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION

MAGAZINE BLOWS UP IN TREADWELL WORKINGS.

Accident Occurs 1,100 Feet Underground as Men Were About to Ascend Slight Damage.

JUNEAU, Alaska, March 3.—Twenty-three miners were killed at midnight last night by an explosion of a powder magazine in the 1,100-foot level of the Mexican mine, one of the group of Treadwell gold properties on Douglas Island. Eight men were seriously injured, of whom it is feared four will die.

The last shots had been fired by the shift of men 20 minutes before the explosion took place, and the men had assembled at the landing of the skip and were arranging to enter it and go on top. The magazine, which contained 275 pounds of powder, was situated 30 feet to the rear of the place where the men were standing. Every man was killed or injured by the explosion.

Most of the miners were foreigners, and only three had families on the island.

The man in charge of the magazine, who had locked the door and was standing with the shift waiting to go up, was among those killed.

Two horses in the mine were standing side by side. One was killed by the shock and the other, when found, was munching oats, undisturbed.

The mine was little damaged.

The bodies were recovered.

Seven miners at work on the same level, but at some distance from the magazine, were not injured.

B. & O. FACES CRISIS

Seeks Mediation of Federal Officials in Hope of Averting Strike of Trainmen.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 3.—Tonight negotiations are at a pause between the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the committees representing the conductors and trainmen.

Today the committees formally notified President Willard that the men rejected the proposition of the railroad. President Willard has called upon Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Commissioner of Labor Neill to act as mediators. Should they fail to bring the two parties together, arbitration will probably be resorted to.

President Garretson and President Lee of the unions concerned have notified the mediators that they will postpone action until 11 a. m. Saturday.

Other railroads are looking with especial interest upon the struggle and it was reported tonight that some of them have urged the Baltimore and Ohio to fight to the last ditch, promising aid in men and money.

The counter-proposition of the Baltimore and Ohio in response to the demands of the men, it is said, conceded compliance with the law in the matter of hours of labor, but concessions as to pay were so trifling as practically to amount to a flat refusal.

ALLDS FLATLY DENIES HAVING TAKEN BRIBE

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3.—This was distinctly Senator Allds' day at the bribery investigation. He was on the witness stand all day. He not only denied having taken a bribe as charged by Senator Conger, but insisted that there had been no conversation about such a transaction between himself and anybody.

WILL VOTE TODAY ON POSTAL BANKS

SENATE TAKES RECESS TO POSTPONE BALLOT.

Agreement as to Final Action Still in Force. Charge of Intimidation Made by an Insurgent.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Taking advantage of the privilege reserved in its agreement concerning the vote on the administration postal saving banks bill, the Senate at 5.30 p. m. today took a recess until 11.30 tomorrow without disposing of the measure.

The agreement for a vote during the day was qualified by the use of the word "legislative" before the word "day." The taking of a recess prolongs the day in a legislative sense and leaves the agreement inviolate. There is every reason to believe that the bill will be disposed of tomorrow.

The bill today was under general discussion under the guise of considering amendments, and it was sharply criticised by many senators. A large number of amendments were adopted. Most of them were along lines heretofore agreed upon, but there was one innovation. Senator Page had offered an amendment embodying a provision looking to the establishment of a reserve fund in connection with the postal savings. Mr. Cummins attacked this provision and procured the elimination of the reserve provision. His reason for the change was the fear that the provision would tend to concentrate the fund. His modification was adopted.

Proceedings in House.

Nearly the entire House session was given over to the postoffice appropriations bill. The House will be in session tomorrow.

"I am intimidated in my representative capacity," shouted Representative Steenerson of Minnesota in the House today when charging that large sums of money had been raised by ship owners to influence improperly members of Congress in behalf of ship subsidy legislation.

Mr. Steenerson, who is one of the House "insurgents," demanded recognition from the speaker on a question of personal privilege to make reply to an attack made upon him in the American Flag" published at Cleveland, Ohio, in the interest of ship subsidy. The speaker ruled that inasmuch as the attack had been caused by a private letter written by Mr. Steenerson it could not be brought out in the House.

Immediately Mr. Steenerson initiated a new demand for recognition, declaring the merchant marine league of the United States with headquarters in Cleveland, "conspired and associated together for the purpose of unduly influencing Congress and creating hostility against all persons opposed to such legislation."

He wanted a committee appointed to investigate these charges and determine whether a conspiracy did exist.

Speaker Cannon cited precedents to show that the question raised was not one of personal privilege, and on motion of Mr. Payne the entire matter was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Committee Reports.

By practically a unanimous vote the Senate committee on commerce today ordered a favorable report on the Gallinger bill to authorize the postmaster general to give increased pay to mail lines established between the United States and ports in South America, the Philippines, Japan, China and Australasia.

Declaring the administration railroad bill would impair the efficiency of the existing statutes, and that the creation of a court of commerce, which the measure involves, would mean an expenditure "wholly unnecessary," Senators Cummins and Clapp today submitted the minority report of the Senate interstate commerce committee.

RIVERS' OVERFLOW MAKES INLAND SEA

LOWLANDS BETWEEN TACOMA AND SEATTLE SUBMERGED.

Conditions Similar in Other Valleys in Western Washington. Railroads Crippled.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 3.—Most of the rivers of western Washington overflowed their banks today and the water continues to rise, high temperature melting the mountain snow. The weather forecast is for warm weather through the state of Washington and light rain on Puget sound.

All the lowlands between Seattle and Tacoma are submerged, making an inland sea miles in extent. The lines of the White, Black and Duwamish rivers are lost in the smooth sea that covers the land. The flood came so gradually that no loss of life or live-stock occurred.

Many farmers have moved into the upper stories of their houses and go about their business in boats.

In Lewis county and along the Chehalis river all the way to Grays Harbor similar conditions prevail.

The Northern Pacific is having trouble keeping its line open on the west slope of the Cascades, Green river being a raging torrent.

The rainfall has been very heavy in Cedar river valley, threatening Seattle's water supply. The Milwaukee railroad, which, by turning the course of Cedar river, endangered the city aqueduct, is making a hard fight to control the river.

Road Opened to Portland.

TACOMA, Wash., March 3.—Traffic on the Northern Pacific between Tacoma and Portland was re-established today and delayed trains moved in both directions. The Puyallup river is falling, but the banks are undermined and caving in many places.

COLFAX, Wash., March 3.—The river is receding here, leaving several feet of mud in the streets of the business section. The damage will be greater than first estimated. Foundations of many buildings are undermined and sewers have caved in. Fresh water is supplied by water carts.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 3.—Train service on the Northern Pacific between Grays Harbor and Puget sound is demoralized by floods, the intermediate territory having been inundated. The grade of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget sound railway at Rochester has been carried away in whole sections. Serious damage to railroads in all directions is reported.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 3.—Through traffic on the Oregon Railway and Navigation route will be resumed Saturday, according to officials. Northern Pacific trains eastbound are getting through to Missoula, where tieups are being encountered. Westbound trains are held at Garrison. The Great Northern westbound trains can reach Wellington, in the Cascade mountains, but the disastrous slide at

CONGRESSMAN INVOLVED IN OLEO "MOONSHINING"

Court Orders Investigation of Moxley's Chicago Industry After Hearing Startling Confessions.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Federal investigation of the oleomargarine industry here was ordered by Judge Landis in the United States district court this afternoon, after the court had listened to the testimony of three men who had pleaded guilty to charges of violating the internal revenue law relating to the coloring of oleomargarine.

The name of William J. Moxley, congressman from the Sixth Illinois district, figured in the hearing, he being engaged in the manufacture of oleomargarine.

Testimony today was given by Samuel Driesbach, Daniel Bortz and William Broadwell, dealers in oleomargarine. Broadwell was sentenced to six years in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth and fined $15,000 by Judge Landis on Monday, but after hearing the story of the three men, the court directed United States Marshal Hoy not to execute the sentence until further notice. The sentence of Driesbach and Bortz was deferred.

Broadwell appeared as a witness on his own account today and acknowledged that he did so without any hope of leniency. He told of purchasing the white oleomargarine from the Moxley concern, which, he said, furnished him with the coloring, and of selling the illegally colored product to restaurants, hospitals and hotels. More than half the total output of the oleomargarine factories in Chicago is sold to "moonshiners," according to the testimony of Broadwell.

Bortz swore that the Moxley business concern sold Broadwell the uncolored butterine, delivering it after 7 o'clock at night, gave away with the coloring matter, told Broadwell's employes how to use it and also sold wrappers for one pound packages stamped "inspected and passed by the pure food department of the United States government."

Witness also testified that Moxley's people delivered these wrappers after the closing hour and that goods were sold to Broadwell and credited to other licensed dealers, these bills being in the names of Broadwell's employes so that the records submitted to the internal revenue offices showed part of the butterine sold by Broadwell as having been sold to [illegible]

SCORES OF BODIES BURIED IN GORGE AT WELLINGTON

Some May Have Been Washed Away in Torrent Caused by the Melting Snows.

DEAD ESTIMATED AT 100

Besides Passengers and Train Crews, Many Laborers Were Caught by the Avalanche.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 4.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Everett says:

One car at the Wellington slide has been excavated and ten persons were found in it alive.

Trainmaster A. R. Blackburn and superintendent O'Neill's secretary were both in the latter's private car when it went over the cliff. That car has not been found and there is a possibility that the occupants may be alive.

One man entombed 60 hours has been dug out half demented from the snow.

WELLINGTON, Wash., March 3.—The list of dead and missing passengers, trainmen and postal employes who were swept down the mountain-side by the avalanche that demolished two Great Northern trains Tuesday morning now contains eighty-six names. Statements of the number of laborers engaged in fighting the snow and who were on the ill-fated trains varies from 20 to 30. Consequently an estimate of 100 dead is conservative.

Bert Mathews of Cincinnati, E. W. Topping of Ashland, O., and E. Boles of Maberly, Ont., are among the dead passengers. Of the injured, only one was an easterner, the Rev. Bishop Wingel of Chicago.

No one who has seen the wreckage has the slightest hope of finding any of the missing alive. Explorations have uncovered only dead bodies, some of them shockingly mangled. Thirty-one bodies have been recovered.

The gorge at Wellington is packed tight with wet snow, ice, huge trees and glacial boulders of enormous weight.

All day a stream of men, with packs strapped to their backs, moved over the winding mountain path from Skykomish to Scenic and Wellington, reminding former Alaskan adventurers of the caravans that crossed the Chilkoot trail in the days of the gold fever to Klondike. The men all carried food and supplies for the injured but some also went up to dig for bodies of friends or relatives.

Caught Stealing From a Corpse.

A laborer who was caught stealing trinkets from a dead woman's body was driven down the trail. One hundred and fifty men dug all day for bodies in the debris of the avalanche. Among the bodies recovered were those of former Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Barnhart of Spokane, Conductor J. L. Pettit who, after a trip on foot to Skykomish, went back to his train and was killed, and Mrs. M. A. Covington, of Olympia, who left Spokane to celebrate in Seattle today her golden wedding anniversary.

Bodies were found by following blood stains. The melting snow has carried the stains down to the stream at the bottom of the gulch. Men with shovels, upon finding one of these crimson leads, start at the edge of the stream and tunnel through the snow until they come to the body of a victim. The snow is packed like cement and the bodies not mangled by the wreckage of the cars, were crushed by the icy mass.

Many Bodies May Be Lost.

It is feared that many of the bodies will never be recovered. The warm

GRAND JURY CHARGES CONTEMPT OF COURT

ARRAIGNS AMERICAN SUGAR REFINING COMPANY.

Denied Books and Papers Which Might Show Violation of Antitrust Act.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Not satisfied with the millions received in payment of duty evaded by short weights, involving the indictment of Charles E. Heike, the company's secretary, and the conviction of minor employes, the United States government is still fighting hard to convict the American Sugar Refining company under the Sherman antitrust act.

Such action was contemplated when the company was indicted for putting the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company out of business, but the settlement of that suit out of court and the interference of the statute of limitations necessitated another legal tack and the matter was laid before the federal grand jury in New York early in January.

Not until today, however, did the scope of the inquiry become public, when the grand jury handed up a presentment for contempt against the company for the latter's failure to produce certain books and papers in response to subpoena.

This presentment in itself is but a move of the government to ascertain its right to the books in question, but incidentally disclosed the nature of the papers demanded.

It has been alleged that the American Sugar Refining company controls 90 per cent of the sugar business in this country and a hint of its intricate relations with various subsidiary corporations is given in the subpoena. The subpoena demands the production of all agreements and other instruments "made by or to the American Sugar Refining company or any officer thereof with any other persons or corporation in or about the purchase by said company of stock in 44 companies."

Among the papers demanded are agreements with the Great Western Sugar company of Colorado and the Fort Collins, Colo., Sugar company.

The order to show cause why the "trust" should not be adjudged in contempt will be signed next week.

James M. Beck, counsel for the company issued the following statement tonight

"My client has no intention to obstruct the inquiry now before the grand jury. The secretary appeared before the grand jury with the letters and documents in question, but the United States attorney insisted upon the surrender by him of the books and documents without his being sworn. As the question is a novel one we both thought it should be submitted to the court for its decision and such was the purpose of the presentment today."

APPEALS TO PRESIDENT

Dismissed Forestry Officer Denied Permission to Practice Before Interior Department.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The question of whether A. C. Shaw, late law officer of the forest service, who was dismissed by order of President Taft at the time Chief Forester Pinchot was removed, should be allowed to practice his profession before the department of the interior will be determined by President Taft himself, it was announced today.

When Mr Shaw asked permission to practice before Secretary Ballinger's department, his application was temporarily denied.

As a resident of North Carolina, Shaw interested the delegation of that state in the matter, and Senators Overman and Simmons and Representative Page saw President Taft regarding it. The President is expected to announce a decision in a few days.

The opinion was advanced at the interior department today that Mr. Shaw probably would be allowed to practice after a reasonable time.

Representative Page says he intends to "find out if Mr Shaw could be denied the opportunity of making a living."

MYSTERY OF BUDGET IS CLEARED AWAY

LONDON, March 3.—What has come to be known as "the mystery of the budget," since Premier Asquith made no mention of the fate of the financial measure when presenting the government's program to parliament, is being cleared up. The premier informed the house of commons [illegible] that the budget would be brought up immediately after the resolutions regarding the lords' power of veto were passed. This does away with the suggestion that two budgets be rolled into one.

"WHY BE SO THIN?"

Thinness is [illegible], Unhealthy and Not Natural Formula Now Used Which Adds From One to Three Pounds a Week.

Every one ought to have some extra flesh on the bony structure of the body, both for the sake of health and self-esteem.

Most thin people are sensitive to the harsh, unfeeling criticisms which are constantly being hurled at them by the more fortunate well-figured persons.

Every one pities a thin, bony horse, but [illegible] don't know it—while thin people are both pitied and ridiculed. It ought not to be so, but it is.

A well rounded figure, be it man or woman, excites admiration; not only for the figure, but for the bright eyes, pink cheeks, red lips, and vigorous carriage which accompany a well-nourished body.

Strength, health, beauty and sound flesh abound, if the blood and nerves get enough nourishment out of the food eaten.

This prescription aids nature; helps absorption, digestion and assimilation; helps distribute the blood and nerve elements which make sound flesh. Get the ingredients and make it at home, and see how fast you gain in weight.

In a half pint bottle, obtain three ounces of essence of pepsin, three ounces syrup of rhubarb. Then add one ounce [illegible] compound [illegible] cardiol, shake and let stand two hours, then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Shake well and take a teaspoonful before meals and one after meals. Also drink plenty of water between meals and when retiring. Weigh yourself before beginning.

WILL TAKE TO THE BUSH

Estrada Will Keep Up Conflict in Nicaragua in Hope of American Intervention.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, March 3.—General Estrada, head of the provisional government and leader of the insurgents, declared today that he intends to withdraw his forces into the bush and oppose the advance of Madriz to the bitter end. But it is necessary to read between the lines of this statement. The provisional government wishes to force American intervention if possible.

General Estrada said today that the east coast might as well go to ruin fighting to the last drop of blood as submit to the rule of Madriz, whom he branded as a second Zelaya.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, March 3.—News has been received of the surrender of 280 insurgents under General Chamorro and General Mena. The remnants of the provisional forces are in full flight.

REACH TARIFF AGREEMENT

Austria Grants Concessions in Order to Secure Minimum Rates in This Country.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Taft today signed a proclamation granting minimum tariff benefits to Austria-Hungary.

This action disposes of one of the most complicated situations with which the tariff experts have to deal. Austria for some time has imposed regulations upon the importation of pork meats which have been irksome to American importers. A prohibitory duty upon cotton seed oil also existed.

In the final agreement Austria agreed to waive the microscopic inspection of ures as were possible to lower the ures as were possible to lower the duty on cotton seed oil.

It is probable that the population of the earth has doubled [illegible].

DR. FRITCH CONVICTED ON CRIMINAL CHARGE

DETROIT, Mich., March 3.—Dr. George A. Fritch was found guilty today of manslaughter in connection with the death last summer of Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor. Dr. Fritch took the verdict calmly, but his wife fainted. Maybelle Millman met her death while undergoing an operation. Her body was dismembered and thrown into a creek.

DENVER NEEDS MEN FOR RAILROAD WORK

DENVER, March 3.—The large amount of railroad construction being done in the vicinity of Denver has about exhausted the supply of labor usually available for such work. This statement is based upon announcements of contracting agents, who say the situation is serious. An effort is being made to reach an agreement with eastern lines to restore the old party rates, so that labor can be imported.

CAN NOT COLLECT MILAGE AFTER RIDING ON PASSES

DENVER, March 3.—District Judge Shattuck today decided that the state may not assess for inheritance taxes any increase of property that accrues after the death of the testator. Suit was brought by the attorney general to secure taxes on $150,000, the increase in the stock of the Ibex Mining company owned by the late Eben Smith. The stock advanced from $50,000 when he died to $200,000 eleven days after his death. The tax on the increase would have amounted to about $7,000.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY MAY PROBE DISASTER

DENVER, Colo., March 3.—As a result of startling charges of the committee from the United Mine Workers and the anticipated trouble of Labor Commissioner Drake, the governor will request the calling of a special grand jury in Trinidad to investigate the Primero disaster, in which more than 70 men were killed. Charges of criminal neglect have been made to the governor against the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the grand jury will be asked to investigate with a view to returning indictments. The labor commissioner has not completed his report, but as soon as it is filed Governor Shafroth will request action.

$16,770 PLEDGED BY LOCAL CHURCHES

dle and southern Colorado in undertaking their full share of responsibility for the work of evangelizing the world.

4th. That we earnestly recommend the appointment in every congregation of a strong missionary committee who shall conduct a campaign of education on the subject of missions, and shall organize and conduct a personal canvass of every member and adherent of the congregation, to the end that some worthy systematic contribution to the cause of the world's evangelization may be made by every individual.

5th. That we strongly urge the adoption of the weekly system of missionary offerings as the most scriptural and businesslike method, believing that when properly introduced and worked, it secures the largest educational, financial and spiritual results.

6th. That the churches of this convention territory undertake to follow up this convention immediately by a thoroughly organized canvass by the missionary committee of each church, to the end that every church member be enlisted as a systematic contributor to missions; that the total offerings of the churches of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou for work may be increased from $7,468.00, reported last year, to at least $15,000.00 for the coming 12 months, and that a public meeting of the men of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou be held on Wednesday evening, March 30, 1910, to hear the reports of the results accomplished by the churches of these cities in this canvass.

7th. That a similar advance in missionary giving be made in churches outside of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou, included in this convention, also a similar method of campaign.

8th. That in the proposed campaign the present organization be continued in Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou, also in the other centers of this convention territory.

Sherwood Eddy Speaks.

Last night's session was not altogether a dollars-and-cents meeting. An assemblage of men that filled the First Methodist church listened to two stirring addresses by George Heber Jones, a missionary to Korea, and George Sherwood Eddy, a missionary to India. Mr. Eddy, who was one of the speakers at the opening banquet last Tuesday night, brought the convention to a close with an eloquent appeal for men to give their lives to missionary work. Then he bade his auditors good-by, saying that after the convention was over and the missionaries returned to their fields they would probably never meet again. There followed a few words of prayer and the event which was such a great success was ended, simultaneously with an opening banquet, at which many of those who spoke here were present in Denver. Mr. Eddy's address follows in part:

We have seen, throughout the days of this convention, that all Asia is awakening, and just at this critical time the laymen's movement has arisen in the west to supply the means and the men to meet this opportunity.

The old faiths in Asia have failed to satisfy the people. Hinduism is corrupt and disintegrating. Buddhism has degenerated to superstition in the north, and cold atheism in the south; Mohammedism, with its slavery and polygamy, has failed to uplift womanhood; Confucianism, although it has provided a moral preparation, has given the people no God, and left China materialistic. The many truths of these religions have prepared the way for the full truth of Christ.

Let us turn for our closing thought in this convention to some of the last words of Christ: "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?" "Feed my sheep." Weighed in the balance of love, is our life found wanting?

There is need of men at the front. Will you go? Would you be willing to go if you could? "While vast continents are shrouded in almost utter darkness, and hundreds of millions suffer the horrors of heathenism or Islam, the burden of proof rests upon you to show that the circumstances in which God has placed you were meant by him to keep you out of the foreign field." If you cannot go, will you let your son or daughter go? As I have gone through the colleges, I have met hundreds of young people eager to go to the foreign field, but forbidden by their parents. It has almost seemed that one of the greatest obstacles to the evangelization was Christian parents.

Christ said, "Feed my sheep." It is a three-fold call to service. First, it is a call to the heroic. Simon died in obeying that call. Think of Carey, giving his life for India; but today there are a million Christians in India. Think of Judson, in prison in Burma, but today there are 100,000 Christians in that land. Think of Livingstone, suffering for Africa. Think of the thousands that perished in the Boxer uprising in China, and the 30,000 that fell in the massacres of Turkey. Our opportunity has been purchased by their blood. Christ calls us to the heroic.

Second: It is the call of the waiting world. Think of the [illegible] young men in Asia looking forward without a leader. We hear the cry of the helpless [illegible] hood of [illegible] of them. We have the cry of the children; the cry of a giant [illegible] world waiting for [illegible].

Lastly: It is the call of Christ. "Inasmuch as ye did it unto [illegible] of my brethren in Asia, ye did it unto me. I was hungry and athirst for the [illegible] of life, sick and in a [illegible] and ye visited me." As we [illegible] the searching test of Christ, "[illegible]" we hear the call of the [illegible] and the need of the waiting world, let us [illegible] together as [illegible] to feed the sheep.

Rapidly Gaining Foothold.

Mr. Jones recited some very interesting facts concerning the missionary work conducted today in Korea which is considered one of the most important fields. He told of how he had come to Korea in 1887 when there [illegible] scarcely a Ch[illegible] and how when he had left to attend the laymen's conventions now in progress he left behind him over 230,000 believers in the Christian religion.

"The average rate of conversions in Korea," he said, "has been a man every hour and there have been 219,000 hours spent in the work. There are now 3,000 Christian churches in Korea and they have been organized on the average of two a week. During the last year churches have been organized at the rate of one a day among the people of Korea. There is a campaign being conducted on a business basis in Korea which has as its object the conversion of 1,000,000 adult Koreans.

"We do not believe in throwing religion at these people in chunks. We go to them one by one and do our best to lead them for our Lord. You can see by the figures I have given you what a chance for success there is.

"The Christian Koreans are contributing largely toward the conversion of other Koreans both in money and time."

Mr. Jones told some thrilling stories of the courage shown by Koreans who have been persecuted for their conversion to Christianity.

No women were admitted to the session, an overflow meeting being held for them simultaneously at the First Presbyterian church at which the speakers were Rockwell Clancy and Miss Frances B. Patterson of India.

A luncheon was given at the Y. M. C. A. building at 6:30 in honor of George Sherwood Eddy which was attended by about 50 persons. C. P. Dodge presided and an interesting talk was given by Mr. Eddy on the work of the Young Men's Christian association of India of which he is at the head.

4 o'Clock Meeting.

Although the attendance was not so great as at the evening session, the 4 o'clock meeting at the First Methodist church was an important part of the day's program, and some unusually interesting, if brief, addresses were made. Dr. M. D. Eubank of China presided, and a hymn was sung by those present. The balcony of the church was opened for women, and many attended.

"Can It Be Done?" was made a general subject for the meeting, and all the speakers took up this theme. The first to deal with it was W. G. Isett, a missionary to China, and one of the younger speakers at the convention.

"This work of evangelization can be done, and in this generation," declared Mr. Isett, "and I would limit 'this generation' a great deal more than some of you who are older men would do, too. There are pessimists in the field, yet after seeing the thousands that have been evangelized, are there any who fail to see that all can be evangelized?

"What do we mean by evangelization? Not the bringing of all people into the church. It means the promulgation of the historical Christ. We can put our missionaries into the field if you will give us the men and the money. We have figured it out, and we know just how many it will take. It will take 400,800 missionaries of all denominations. When this evangelization will have been adopted, nations will be born in a day."

Rockwell Clancy talked upon the subject from the viewpoint of a missionary to India, part of which country is the field in which he works. He said there can be no doubt of the possibility of evangelizing the world, when it is taken into consideration that right in India 100,000 men and women were once evangelized within a period of 10 days. He modestly declared that his share in this amounts to only 25,000 souls. He made the assertion that in 10 years he and his present staff, with the workers they could themselves train in the field, could accomplish the evangelization of 5,000,000 persons, if given the funds with which to carry on the work. He told of how large numbers of natives have actually been converted to Christianity by native preachers trained by the missionaries, who could not even read or write.

"My territory," said he, "is 100 miles long and 50 miles wide. In all that area there are but five churches. Our church is under the skies and the trees."

"It Can Be Done."

George Heber Jones of Korea also spoke.

J. Aberly of India, the last speaker at the afternoon meeting, brought out a point that had not been made by any of the other speakers, the automobile. He said that a missionary acquaintance of his possessed an automobile and that he used it to very great advantage in covering an extensive territory.

"He rides into a town," said Mr. Aberly, "toots the horn, and the people come out and listen to him preach from the step of his machine. I do not see why the automobile should not enter the missionary field where it can be used to good advantage."

As to whether the evangelization of the world can be accomplished, Mr. Aberly said:

"It can not be done—under the old methods. But then that is the reason for the laymen's missionary movement. I know what I am talking about. I have worked under the old methods. I have heard missionaries say that we had better not make an attempt to take any more converts into the church until we can care for them after they are converted. Conversions without preachers and teachers will do little good. But it can be done if you will take hold and work. After 100 years of work in India, there are still 100,000 people of that country who have never even heard of the gospel, and India is one of the most open countries."

The Noon Rallies.

The rallies held at noon at the various churches, while constituting one of the most important features of the convention, were of so informal a character that no comprehensive detailed report can be made of them. Delegates of the several denominations met at one church of each denomination most accessible. The general resolutions that were presented at the convention were the main subject of discussion. The churches at which rallies were held were: First Baptist, First Christian, First Congregational, First English Lutheran, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, United Brethren and United Presbyterian.

At the First Baptist church Professor M. C. Gile presided. No formal speeches were made. The principal talkers were Dr. M. D. Eubank of China, the Rev. Bruce Kinney of Topeka, Kan., and Dr. T. N. Clark of Kansas City.

The result of the meeting was that the Baptists formed a purpose of ultimately contributing $4 per member of the church toward foreign missions, which, if carried out by all churches, would be provided with adequate sums to carry on the work. They will begin their good intention by immediately contributing $2 a year per member. At the same time it was made clear at the meeting that the home missionary work will not be neglected and the sense of the meeting was that a corresponding increase be made in the contributions for home work.

At the First Methodist church a committee consisting of E. B. Bowers, C. C. Morris, E. B. Van Ryper, H. H. Cleaver of Colorado Springs, and Dr. L. A. Miller of Colorado City was appointed to carry on locally the work that has been begun by the convention. Bishop W. S. Lewis of China presided and several informal addresses were delivered. Bishop Lewis also spoke at the woman's meeting held in another part of the church immediately after that for men.

President W. F. Slocum of Colorado College presided at the rally held at the First Congregational church. Dr. John E. Merrill, a missionary to Turkey, and George Sherwood Eddy, a missionary to India, were the principal speakers. The churches of Colorado Springs represented were the First, Second and Hillside Congregational. The First Congregational of Colorado City and the First Congregational of Fountain were also represented. Two sets of resolutions were adopted, the first commending the "apportionment plan" included in the convention resolutions and the second outlining a plan of the churches represented to raise $2,350 for foreign missions during the coming year. This will be double the amount raised during the last year.

At the First Presbyterian church rally John Lennox presided. The speakers were Dr. Charles E. Bradt of Chicago and the Rev. Howard A. Johnston, pastor of the church. The convention resolutions were indorsed and the churches represented decided to double their contributions for foreign missions during the coming year. Dr. Bradt and W. C. Isett of China spoke at a meeting of women which followed the other meeting.

Women's meetings were held at all of the churches where rallies occurred and in every instance both among the [illegible] and the [illegible] plans for much larger contributions to the foreign missionary fund to be raised by their respective denominations during the coming year were made.

The Dying Soldier.

The morning [illegible] was called "A Conference of Stewardship." It was held at the First Methodist church and women were admitted to the balcony. The following [illegible] part: W. B. Anderson, India, on "Prayer and Missions;" John F. Goucher, "[illegible] Stewardship;" J. Campbell White, "The Fu[illegible] of Stewardship; What [illegible]" and Dr. Charles E. Bradt, Chicago, "A Call to Stewardship."

The Rev. Mr. Anderson [illegible]

I [illegible] implicitly in this power of prayer, because of what I have [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that God [illegible] into that [illegible]. The revival [illegible] not because [illegible] of large [illegible] ability, but [illegible] they [illegible] God [illegible] prayed. God answered as He said that He would [illegible] that [illegible] among the people of India [illegible] thousands are being brought into the church of God.

[illegible]

will pray not only with the lips, but that they will pray as Christ prayed, "with the very life."

Among other things Dr. Goucher said:

"God has charged us with everything that there is on the earth. If you do not believe it, what is it that we ourselves, without His help, have created? He charges us with every possession that we have. The account is very large, and we should act accordingly.

"If, then, we are charged with the use and the possession of all the world's goods, we next ask why He has given us such supreme power. My friends, He has given us such power that we might prove our lives. The [illegible] of this civilization, who have greater wealth of any Croesus of old, have also a responsibility the like of which was never [illegible] before. And if we go through this world failing to take advantage of the spiritual benefits which are ours for the asking, and which are [illegible], we are absolutely [illegible] the God-given opportunity to [illegible] heavenly [illegible].

"[illegible], in God's method; the 'annual [illegible]' of getting [illegible] for the [illegible] of the gospel is the most inadequate method that could be devised," said J. Campbell White in the leading address of the morning, in which he epitomised the theme of the morning address. "The stewardship which we should [illegible] should be undertaken as if the [illegible] of our life was to run a [illegible] for God; and we should try by every [illegible] [illegible] to make that [illegible] successful. With[illegible], without [illegible], as [illegible], this can be done. Do it, therefore, as if your very soul's salvation depended on the success of the [illegible]."

Dr. Charles E. Bradt of Chicago, the next speaker, dwelt with particular force upon the [illegible] before every man today to [illegible] the gospel in his daily life.

"We can do it if we will," said Dr. Bradt, "but if we wait for the other fellow we shall never get [illegible]. It is distinctly up to our faith. I told my church in Topeka last [illegible] that it could raise, of itself, a million [illegible] if it had the faith that the giving of that money would [illegible] the world. If you [illegible] will [illegible] that you are stewards of [illegible] and not hoard [illegible] dead, be [illegible] in this [illegible] age."

The New York Doctors

Give Three Months Free Treatment

To All Who Call Before Saturday Evening.

The New York Doctors are making this special free offer to get as many cured patients on their list as possible before the summer season begins. Three months is the usual time required to cure the average curable chronic disease, and after an experience of nearly six years in the treatment of chronic diseases in Colorado Springs they have found that the cures they can make in the pre-summer months will keep them busy with patients recommended by these cures for the balance of the year.

All you have to do is to call at the offices of the New York Doctors and be examined, which will cost you nothing. After your examination, your case will be explained to you. You will be told whether you can be cured or not, or if there is a doubt, you will be given an opinion. Your name will not be published in the paper, nor will you be asked to sign a testimonial. We [illegible] that if we cure you that you will be grateful enough to tell your friends. We have done this for nearly six years and are seldom disappointed in cured cases bringing us new patients.

The New York Doctors are SPECIALISTS in the treatment of the CHRONIC DISEASES OF MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN. They have attained this name by having first prepared themselves thoroughly and practice, to treat chronic diseases, equipped an office with the best of instruments which comprise most of the modern electrical apparatus and mechanical appliances now used, and finally by curing hundreds of cases. Their success has been due entirely to their hard, painstaking work and to their superior office equipment. Their methods are, in most cases, those that have originated and have been indorsed by the large universities of both Europe and America. For instance:

In the treatment of CONSUMPTION and ALL TUBERCULAR troubles they use the IMPROVED FRENCH TRANSFUSION METHOD, which was discovered in France some years ago and is now used by physicians in nearly all large cities in this country.

Just to give you a faint idea of the diseases they treat we will enumerate a few of them: ASTHMA, CATARRH, RHEUMATISM, GOITRE, Growths of all kinds, DISEASES of the STOMACH and BOWELS, LIVER, KIDNEY and BLADDER troubles, DISEASES OF WOMEN (without operations in most cases), NERVOUSNESS, DISEASES of the SKIN and BLOOD and special DISEASES OF MEN.

No matter what your trouble is, let us talk it over with you. Consultation is free.

DR. HULL RELEASED ON BOND

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., March 3.—Dr. James R. Hull, charged in a joint indictment with Mrs. Alma P. Vaughn with the murder of the woman's husband, Professor J. T. Vaughn, by poisoning, was released from the custody of the sheriff today on a $15,000 bond. He returned to his home in Monroe City to await a hearing in May. Prosecuting Attorney Reiger withdrew his opposition to the release of Dr. Hull just as a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus was to begin. Dr. Vaughn, who is now in Texas, was released on $25,000 bond last Saturday.

The total value of church property in the United States reported in 1906, for all denominations, was $1,257,575,957.

ROCKEFELLER'S SON TO HEAD FOUNDATION

RETIRES FROM BUSINESS TO MANAGE CHARITIES.

Bulk of Vast Fortune Is to Be Devoted to Philanthropic Work.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Aiming charities the new Rockefeller foundation is to become what the Standard Oil company has long been among corporations, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as its head, will in another sphere of influence perpetuate the domination so long maintained in the world of industry by his father.

The younger Rockefeller announced today that he had recently retired from the directorate of the Standard Oil company to assume the management of his father's benefactions, of which he thus becomes almoner-in-chief. No successor has been named to fill his place in the oil company.

The announcement in Wall Street was taken to mean two things, that all estimates of young Rockefeller's future must now be revised, and that hereafter the Rockefeller millions will pass wholly into conservative securities, such as it is proper for trust funds, savings banks and insurance companies to acquire.

Leaves World of Business.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is now 32 years old. Greeted on his graduation from Brown University, some years ago, as in prospect the richest young man in the world, he now leaves the field to J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., 10 years his elder. Mr. Morgan, Sr., and Mr. Rockefeller, Sr., are both very near of an age. The former will be 73 in April and the latter was 70 some months ago. Both are in vigorous health.

Young Rockefeller's relations with corporate finance in the future, it is understood, will consist chiefly in conserving the huge fortune amassed by his father, reinvesting the income and distributing such part of it as may seem wise.

It is not thought likely that the new foundation for philanthropy, as proposed by the bill introduced in the United States Senate yesterday, will assume settled policies for years to come, but in this connection Frederick T. Gates, one of the incorporators of the foundation, said today that two main points had been missed.

"In the first place," indicated Mr. Gates, "every eleemosynary institution has been organized for some specific object, and thus limited in its sphere of helpfulness. Another thing, there are no sectarian boundary lines in the charter of the foundation and nothing to prevent it from absorbing the work of other organizations which have outlived their usefulness under present conditions."

To Merge Rockefeller Charities.

Mr. Gates was understood to mean that there will be a gradual merger, along family Rockefeller lines, of the Rockefeller charities. The general view among those in the confidence of the family coincide with that of Senator Gallinger, who introduced the bill to incorporate the foundation, when he said that he believed ultimately the bulk of the Rockefeller fortune would be devoted to the work.

"The fund," said Starr J. Murphy, Mr. Rockefeller's personal counsel and one of the prospective members of the board to control the foundation, "will be nonsectarian so far as its distribution is concerned, and it will be adaptable for any purpose at any time and at any place.

"An instance of the fund's purpose will show what is meant. If there is a terrible earthquake or flood or any other similar catastrophe that properly invites the world's aid, the income of the foundation could be immediately stopped toward whatever purposes were under consideration and all of it immediately devoted for the benefit of the sufferers.

"All charitable, educational and other institutions which will receive money from the fund, will receive what they need but not steady incomes. The foundation in short is intended to be a universal charity for all time."

Trains Moving on Oregon Line.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 3.—The western railroad situation is improved today. Rail communication with the Pacific coast has been re-established over the Oregon Short line and Oregon Railroad and Navigation lines, and there is reason to believe that passenger traffic over that route will be normal in another 24 hours.

Seven days may pass before the Southern Pacific can run through trains across Nevada. Palisade, the center of the flood district, is entirely isolated. Stub trains have been started from Ogden to Carlin on the east and from San Francisco to Battle Mountain, west of Palisade. The intervening space lacks three large bridges which were carried away by the flood waters.

A decline of several feet in the Nevada streams was reported today, and it is thought the subsidence will continue.

The Western Pacific is in good condition to Shafter, Nev., where it connects with the Nevada Northern, and maintains mail and traffic connections with Ely.

Rio Grande and Union Pacific trains from the east will arrive today.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—Westbound passenger trains are approaching this city over the Oregon Short line and Oregon Railroad and Navigation tracks. The fast mail due here last Tuesday, is the first in the long line of delayed trains which includes the Southern Pacific overlands bound for San Francisco first to arrive. The Oregon Short line is in good condition and handling traffic as rapidly as safety will permit. The Willamette river is slowly rising here, but up river points report that it is falling and that the danger of flood is thought to be passed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Southern Pacific trains to and from the east are running over the Santa Fe route to Portland, and from there over the O. R. & N. lines.

The Central Pacific is completely blocked east of Elko, Nev., by washouts. No estimate of the time it will take to repair the road has been given out by the company.

Follow this advice.

Quaker Scotch Oats is the best of all foods; it is also the cheapest. When such men as Prof. Fisher of Yale University and Sir James Crichton Browne, L.L.D., F.R.S., of London spend the best parts of their lives in studying the great question of the nourishing and strengthening qualities of different foods, it is certain that their advice is absolutely safe to follow.

Professor Fisher found in his experiments for testing the strength and endurance of athletes that the meat eaters were exhausted long before the men who were fed on such food as Quaker Scotch Oats. The powers of endurance of the non-meat eaters were about eight times those of the meat eaters.

Sir James Crichton Browne says—eat more oatmeal, eat plenty of it and eat it frequently. 59

Buy it in the regular package, or in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

40 Years of Success

For over 40 years Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have kept the lead and still stand in the front rank as curative agents.

They are little advertised now, as compared with many others, resting, as they do for popularity upon their many years of marvelous cures and the grateful friends they have made.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG. SICK WOMEN WELL.

It's the only advertised medicine for women's ills which contains neither alcohol (which in most instances is worse than the disease) nor habit-forming, or injurious drugs, and the makers of which are not afraid to print all its ingredients on its wrapper. Is that not significant?

SALESMEN FILL CITY

Are Supplying Wants of Merchants Who Are Preparing for Unusually Big Business

From the number of traveling salesmen from eastern houses in the city, and the many local merchants who are looking over the samples, there is an indication that the business men of Colorado Springs are looking forward to a big business during the coming months. It is a notable fact at all the hotels in the city that most of the daily arrivals are traveling salesmen. Practically all the sample rooms are taken, and some of the late arrivals are even experiencing difficulty in finding places in which to show their stock.

One of the traveling men stated yesterday that, while this is usually a good season, as most of the merchants have cleaned down their stocks to such points that it is necessary to replenish them, that at the present time the indications are that local merchants will buy more then they usually do.

Veteran Hotel Man Leases Spaulding House on South Tejon—To Be Greatly Improved.

J. A. Himebaugh, commissioner of finance, has leased the Spaulding house on South Tejon street, to F. M. Menke of Mattoon, Ill., for two years, the lease to become effective April 1. Mr. Menke has been in the hotel and restaurant business for 20 years and is coming here on account of his daughter's health.

Mr. Himebaugh says that several thousand dollars will be spent jointly by himself and Mr. Menke in improving the hotel. The interior will be renovated and considerable new furnishings installed. Mr. Himebaugh is the oldest hotel man in the city, having been manager of the Spaulding since 1887. He managed the Alamo hotel for 10 years, leasing it to George S. Elstun in 1898. Mr. Himebaugh is retiring from business.

RELATIVE COMING TO CARE FOR W. F. BOND

Chief of Police Armstrong yesterday received a telegram from H. C. Bond, Ruston, La., supposed to be a brother of W. F. Bond, who tried to commit suicide in the G. S. Barnes hardware store Wednesday, saying that he was leaving for Colorado Springs and asking that the young Bond be cared for properly. Bond is being held at the county jail. Chief Armstrong also received telegrams from J. L. Bond, the boy's father, asking that his son be well cared for.

It is a matter of grave concern to the missionaries and other permanent residents of China to observe from year to year the increased cost of living.

TELLS PLANS OF NEW INSTITUTION FOR BOYS

No Students Under 16 Years of Age Will Be Admitted in Episcopal School Board.

The board of trustees of the St. Stephen's boys' boarding school which will open September 21 of this year under the auspices of the Episcopal church, has issued the first annual prospectus. No boys under 16 years of age will be received and the annual tuitions charges will be $700. The booklet outlines the course of study for the six forms of the school and states that the school year will end July 21. Special attention will be paid to the physical and mental development of the students, as well as to their moral and spiritual uplift, the aim of the school being "to inspire the boys with motives to right action, which will be a power for righteousness throughout their lives and to develop that which will make of them worthy members of society, fully prepared, morally and mentally, for their college careers."

The following are the members of the board of trustees: George A. Fowler, vice-president; Irving W. Bonbright, secretary-treasurer; Leonard E. Curtis, Rev. Arthur N. Taft, H. Livingston Center and Dunbar F. Carpenter.

The board of advisers is composed of the Right Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., bishop of Massachusetts; the Right Rev. Benjamin Brewster, bishop of western Colorado; the Rev. Endicott Peabody, D. D., headmaster of Groton school, Groton, Mass.; the Rev. William G. Thayer, D. D., headmaster of St. Mark's school, Southboro, Mass.; the Rev. John B. Diman, A. M., headmaster of St. George's school, Newport, R. I.; Mr. Sherman Day Thacher, headmaster of the Thacher school, Nordhoff, Cal.

MACNEIL MAKES REPLY

President Utah Copper Co. Answers Criticisms by President Phillips of Nevada Co.

As president of the Utah Copper company, whose recent and pending consolidations have made it a prominent figure in the financial world, Charles M. MacNeill of this city has issued a letter to stockholders of the Utah and Nevada Copper companies, answering criticisms by President Phillips of the Nevada company, on the proposed basis of absorption by the Utah corporation.

Mr. MacNeill says that he did not answer before because he did not care to enter into a newspaper controversy. He points out that Mr. Smith of Philadelphia, a heavy Nevada company stockholder, repudiates Phillips' claim that he (Smith) agrees with Phillips' attack on the Utah company.

He also says that the value of the Nevada company, although a good proposition, is exaggerated in President Phillips' statements. He declares that it has been "producing its highest grade of ore at the very lowest cost which can ever obtain in its operations, and we well understand that the grade of the ore is already very much less than it was a few months ago."

Mr. MacNeill goes on to say:

"On the other hand, it is just as apparent that the Utah company has, up to the present time, been mining its poorest grade of ore under the most expensive conditions that will prevail; that the grade of ore available for mining will increase, and the cost of producing it will decrease. This will be apparent to you if you simply visit the property without being a mining expert as I know you are not.

"The time for the exchange of Nevada shares terminates on March 6, as you know, and that time will not be extended, so that the shareholders who prefer to rely upon Mr. Phillips' recommendations will not have an opportunity to exchange after that date."

Way Former Secretary of Navy Metcalf Expresses Himself—Leaves for California.

After spending several hours in Colorado Springs, en route home from the east, Victor H. Metcalf, former secretary of the navy left yesterday morning for his home at Oakland, Cal., together with Mrs. Metcalf. Victor N. Metcalf, son of the former cabinet officer, will remain indefinitely in Colorado Springs with his bride.

Mr. Metcalf is enthusiastic over the navy of this country. He said that the United States is fast setting the pace for other nations, which are taking our vessels, such as the South Carolina, as [illegible] larger than 25,000 tons should be built by this country, due to the conditions at our harbors. Two battleships of 20,000 tons each are of much greater value to the navy than a Dreadnought of [illegible] tons, according to Mr. Metcalf.

Another matter of congratulation to this country is the excellent work[illegible]ship of its navy, according to the former secretary. The spirit of the men, also, is another splendid feature, he said.

Mr. Metcalf was especially well pleased with Colorado Springs as a city, and will probably return here for a longer visit some time in the near future.

The next meeting date will be announced later, as the gathering adjourned subject to a call from the president.

TUCKER'S NAME IS IN OFFICIAL LIST

Brothers in This City Give Up Hope That He Escaped From Snowslide Near Seattle.

That John Clifford Tucker, formerly of this city, brother of Ben and Earl Tucker of Tucker's restaurant here perished in the terrible snowslide near Seattle last Saturday morning now is practically a certainty. The official list of dead mail clerks on the train, which has just been given out by the postoffice department contains Tucker's name. His brothers have given up all hope of his escape.

Two telegrams were sent yesterday to Mrs. Tucker by Ben and Earl Tucker, but up to a late hour last night they had received no reply. It is believed that Mrs. Tucker has gone to the scene of the catastrophe.

After about 80 shots the rifling of the present 12-inch gun of 2,600 foot-seconds velocity becomes so badly worn as to destroy the accuracy. In the case of the new 14-inch gun the erosion is much less and the gun will be serviceable for about 300 discharges.

The Holland Dairy Standard

is very high. Content with nothing short of perfection, our continual striving results in our milk and general dairy conditions being better and greater in point of purity and perfection than ever before.

To assure you of this truth and to give you absolute confidence in what we are doing and producing, we have placed the dairy under

Milk Commission Certification

The El Paso County Medical Society has appointed a Milk Commission composed of Drs. Gardiner, Swan, Hoagland, Webb, Martin, Hanford, McClannahan, Magruder, McKinney, Watt, Dennis and Stough. This Commission has a board of experts in Drs. Lennox, Loomis and Dickey. This board inspects and examines the milk and the dairy twice a month—not at stated intervals, but as they choose—thus putting out of the question any preparations for their coming. This means that the dairy and its milk is up to a SUPREMELY HIGH standard ALL THE TIME. These examiners have reported to the Commission and upon the dairy's splendid showing the milk bears "The certification of the Commission." To satisfy the high standard of the Milk Commission the dairy fulfills requirements covering details as to care of milk, cows, barns, men, utensils, bottling, cooling and everything else concerned with safeguarding the production of highest grade certified milk.

That's What "Certified Milk" Means

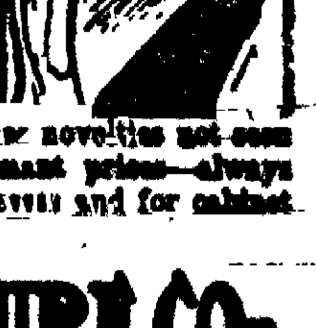

There is absolute protection in this for you. Is such assurance and safety (in a product so necessary) of any value to you? The idea is this: We are always up to top notch—always producing "certified milk" always under closest inspection and always and only selling but one grade of milk—the highest—"Certified." For all who wish to be assured by a responsible, outside, disinterested Board of Commissioners (such as the above Committee) that our milk is dependable today, tomorrow and everyday; in fact for all who value the best in food products and who desire the highest grade milk for table use, for a beverage, for children, infants and invalids—for all such we are producing

Mr. Bede's keen sense of humor and knowledge of affairs were brought out strikingly in his lecture, in which he showed that the modern inventions, many of which are looked upon by the laboring class as harmful to society, and to their line of work, would be the best things in the end. A fair-sized audience was present.

Mr. Bede was introduced by former Congressman Franklin E. Brooks, an old friend and colleague.

Higher Refrigeration

Figures look well in print but are sometimes misleading.

A few facts may enable consumers to do their own figuring

Ice which is exposed in cutting, shipping and storage is absorbing heat all the while and much of its efficiency is lost before it reaches the consumer. El Paso Ice is made from distilled city water. To drive out every particle of air and thus insure a perfectly flawless block of ice this distilled water is reboiled, after which it is frozen, solid as a rock, lasting in quality, pure and clear as crystal.

It is immediately placed into sealed storage rooms where, by means of artificial refrigeration, a temperature below freezing is constantly maintained and there it remains in perfect condition until delivered to the consumer. This is why El Paso Ice excels in quality and efficiency. El Paso Ice bills are smaller than others. There is a reason. The El Paso Ice & Coal Co. Phone 46.

PLANS TWO CONCERTS

Walter Damrosch and New York Symphony Orchestra to Be Heard Here in Near Future.

Robert Slack of Denver, who six years ago brought the first operatic stars to this city, was in Colorado Springs yesterday making arrangements for a series of two concerts in the near future. For the last 21 years he has been connected with St. John's cathedral in Denver. He plans to bring the Kneisel quartet here April 27, and Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony orchestra May 31.

Mr. Slack believes that his attractions will stimulate interest in the concerts given under the auspices of the Colorado Springs Musical club. If possible he will book Scotti, the famous Metropolitan Opera house singer of New York, for an engagement here. Recently Mr. Slack failed in an effort to secure Enrico Caruso, the great tenor, for a series of five concerts in Colorado, although he made an offer of $25,000.

M., and after a long discussion the judges, B. A. Banta, A. G. Cooley and W. L. Spencer, decided that the affirmative speakers, Attorney O. E. Collins and Dr. A. G. Boyd, had the better of the negative side, composed of Attorney Willis Strachan and Joseph Schisler. The meeting was an open one and a large number of people enjoyed the argument."

COMMISSION IS ENJOINED

Order Relating to Allowances to Elevators by Railroads Is Declared to Be Illegal.

KANSAS CITY, March 3.—The interstate commerce commission was permanently enjoined from enforcing an order prohibiting railroads and other carriers from allowing compensation to owners and operators of elevators for elevation and transfer of grain in transit in a decision filed in the United States circuit court here today. The decision was written by Judge Sanborn and was concurred in by Judges Hook and Adams.

The decision says that the order of the interstate commerce commission is beyond the delegated power of the commission.

The interstate commerce commission issued the order prohibiting the owners of elevators from receiving compensation for the elevation and transfer of grain in transit on the theory that such action amounted to a rebate. The order had, it was alleged, been detrimental to the business of elevators, the total value of which is millions of dollars.

SUMMONED TO COURT

George Bernard Said to Be Owner of Automobile Reported as Going Too Fast.

George Bernard, a wealthy ranchman and mining man of this city, was summoned yesterday to appear in police court this morning to answer to a charge of exceeding the speed limit with his automobile. At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon it was reported at police headquarters that machine No. 118 was going west on Colorado avenue at a speed of 35 miles an hour. Mr. Bernard, the owner of the machine, was ordered to appear in court.

Numerous complaints are being received by the police of the recklessness of a number of automobile drivers in the residence parts of the city. On North Cascade avenue, especially in the north end, automobiles are said to do as high as 45 or 50 miles an hour. Chief of Police Armstrong is making every effort to apprehend violators of the speed ordinance.

THINK MASON'S ILLNESS IS DUE TO BAD WHISKY

That Frank Mason's illness is due to bad whisky, which he and several others were drinking Wednesday night, and not to a drink of beer, which he says was given him by a stranger, is the belief of the police. Dr. J. T. Estill, who attended Mason at his home, 123 East Mill street, says that the man showed evidence of strychnine poisoning.

According to Mason's story, he saw two teams, one coal black and the other milk white, attached to wagons loaded with beer. The teams were in an alley in the rear of a pool hall. One of the drivers asked him to have a drink, and offered a bottle of beer. Mason took the drink. The police are somewhat dubious of Mason's story.

GENERAL BELL ACQUITTED

Former Head State Militia Had Been Sued by Widow of Man Killed at Dunnville.

In the federal court at Denver yesterday Judge Robert Lewis directed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal in the case of General Sherman Bell, who was sued for $5,000 damages for the death of James Carley at the battle of Dunnville. The suit was brought by Mrs. Carley, who intended to start criminal action against General Bell if she should secure a judgment. A number of Colorado Springs men were named as defendants with General Bell, but the cases against them was dismissed soon after the trial started.

What the Press Agents Say

"THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH"

Only a few genuine and new musical novelties have reached Colorado Springs this season, and the biggest one of these is "The Flower of the Ranch," by Joseph Howard, the prolific overnight composer, which comes to the Opera House tomorrow evening.

"The Flower of the Ranch" might best be termed a musical melodrama, for during the operation of the piece there are a number of stirring climaxes intermingled with which are nearly twenty of the cleverest musical numbers, and among them are some real novelties. One of these, and the biggest spot on the map of mirth and melody unfolded in this story, is the "Pajama and the Nightie" duet. This is bold, broad conceit which stops just about two ticks by the stop watch this side of the shocking point where polite society would call it "outre." The breezy summery haiment of the nifty terpsichores is not exactly diaphanous or gauzy, for it has a little more protection against wintry blasts than the bracelets and beads of Salome fame.

Another number novelty sufficient in itself to hold up the average musical offering is the "Days of '49," in which a real stage coach, drawn by "broiler" ponies is introduced. From a musical standpoint, it is fat with song and chorus and together with its melodramatic setting, and genuine comedy situations, it is just a little the most intricate and delightful combination of this ever squeezed into two hours of footlight folly.

THE ACT THAT MAKES EVERYBODY TAKE NOTICE

Practically every act that the Majestic is booking these days makes everybody sit up and take notice, but that of Thelma DeVerne and Harry G. Van, which is one of the attractions on this week's great bill, goes most of them one better. The surprise starts when the audience, while thinking it is listening to a song by Mr. Van, suddenly discovers, as Miss DeVerne steps into view, that she is doing the heavy stunt in the vocal line, and then the people wonder when the change was made.

And Miss DeVerne's vocalizing is certainly a heavy stunt. She is known as the lady with the real baritone voice. Well, if that is meant to convey an idea of the masculine quality of her notes it doesn't half describe it, for Miss DeVerne is a lady with a real bass voice. Not only a reall bass, but bass voice. She can sing, in short. But this isn't all. Between the two of them, Mr. Van being known as one of the cleverest comedians on the stage, they keep their audiences in constant laughter. That's why everyone is talking about them—people like to laugh.

INSANE CURED BY "WORD TREATMENT"

NOVEL THEORY ESTABLISHED BY DR. FRANZ.

Cases in Which Peculiar Mental Delusions Have Been Removed After Discovering Cause.

By Frederic J. Haskin

The cure of mental derangement by the sudden pronunciation of a single word is the achievement of Dr. Shepherd Ivery Franz, who is in charge of the psychological laboratory of the government hospital for the insane at Washington. He succeeds by working on the theory that there are thousands of cases of insanity which can be successfully treated if the cause of the mental disease can be ascertained, and the explanation made to the patients that their unhealthy thoughts have no foundation in fact.

There was sent to him recently a young man who had an overpowering fear of open places, the outdoors or any unenclosed place, and who was under the domination of this terror to such an extent that he could be made to leave his bedroom only by physical compulsion. Dr. Franz took him into the "treatment room" of the laboratory, where there is very little light and no noise. Seating the patient in a comfortable easy chair, the doctor told him to relax himself and try not to think of anything. After a dead silence of several minutes, the doctor began to pronounce with sudden emphasis single words which he thought might produce in the man's mind some idea having a bearing on the cause of his delusions. Every time he pronounced a word he leaned over and struck the patient sharply on the knee.

He went through more than a hundred words without getting any results. Finally, when he said "hole," the man paused a moment before making an irrelevant answer. That pause encouraged Franz. His next word, accompanied by the tap on the knee, was "trench." From this he got results, and gradually, with infinite patience, he brought out the story of what had unseated the patient's mind. It was this. One morning he had been running at the top of his speed to overtake a moving street car, and the chase had carried him halfway down the next block. Just as he was about to grasp the handle bar of the car and swing himself aboard, he looked down and saw yawning at his feet a freshly dug sewer trench. One more step and he would have had a fall of eight feet, but he managed to bring himself up short.

At first the experience had had no appreciable effect, but such shocks to the brain work gradually. In a few weeks he felt an aversion to walking in open fields. Next he disliked to cross the street, and this went so far that he could not be prevailed to do so unless he was accompanied by a guide. After a while longer, he refused to walk across the yard from his house to that of his next-door neighbor, and the final stage of the disease was that he was afraid to leave his room. Dr. Franz, having established all this by his theory of suggesting to the patient the real trouble by the use of words calculated to bring the mental pictures back to him, had comparatively little difficulty in explaining that the dread was founded on fiction and that there was really nothing to fear. The man's complete recovery followed, and he again occupies a prominent place in the business world.

Cures Case of Pyrophobia.

These peculiar cases of insanity are classed under the general title of "phobias." The man who feared the open places was an agoraphobiac. Another case Dr. Franz had was that of a pyrophobia—the fear of fire. This was a woman who dreaded fire, and at various periods in the day imagined that she was enveloped in flames. At such time she suffered as much as if she had been actually on fire. On very bright, sunny rays, the brilliance of the sun persuaded her that the world was burning up. The doctor was successful with her on the third word, which was "matches." That reminded her dimly of her baby having been burned to death as the result of playing with matches. Gradually, he made her understand that the child's death was no reason for her to think she was on fire or to believe that fire was to be dreaded all the time.

It is difficult to trace these "phobias" to their true causes, because, as was pointed out in the case of the agoraphobiac, the effects of the shock to the brain do not appear at once, but come out long afterwards. The families of the patients are often unable to assign any reasons for the mental breakdown.

The asylum had one amusing case. This was a mysophobiac—a man who feared dirt as ordinary people fall away from pestilence. His mania for washing his hands was never satisfied, and the hospital attendants finally agreed to let him go through these ablutions eight times a day. On one occasion he was allowed to go into the lavatory unwatched, and when he was found 40 minutes later he had used 70 towels. It was later discovered that his trouble had come from his seeing on the street a man who appeared to be particularly unkempt and dirty looking. At the time this patient's companion had been a physician, who had pointed out the probabilities of the tramp spreading disease. Through some peculiar link in his brain, the patient had dwelt on that remark and had allowed it to become the dominant thought in his life, resulting in his having no other desire than to take baths and wash his hands. While this incident can be related briefly, it is illustrative of the doctor's patient [illegible] that he had to use more than [illegible] in the course of [illegible] before he got the man's mind to thinking of the act [illegible] of the trouble. The [illegible] word was "doctor," [illegible]

Cured by [illegible]

One of Dr. Franz's patients was a [illegible] young woman, [illegible] red [illegible], or anything of that color, threw her into what amounted to convulsions of fear. He took her into the [illegible], quiet room. It was a [illegible], and nothing could be heard but the [illegible] hum of an electric fan on the table. He allowed her to sit perfectly quiet for more than five minutes. Then he [illegible] tapping her on the knee, said sharply: "Suicide." "Yes, yes," she said, and hesitated a moment. Then she continued: "It was at a ball." "Pistol!" exclaimed the doctor. That brought back the whole story of how she had been at a German ball one evening and had seen a young man suicide by shooting himself in the temple. The sight of the blood on the suicide's shirt front had been the starting point of her delusion. She was cured in two weeks.

A peculiar case was that of a man who had suddenly forgotten his own identity, and had traveled through six different states without knowing who he was. He was picked up in the streets of Washington and sent to the hospital for the insane. There was nothing to suggest who he was, absolutely no clue to his home, his occupation or his name. It afterwards developed that he had been away from home eight months, and had been going down hill all the time until he looked like the most miserable of tramps. The doctor saw the futility of trying to suggest to him his identity by using all the names he had ever heard. Accordingly, he tried the employment line. None of the ordinary professions brought any response. Mention of doctors, lawyers, journalists or ministers gave no result. The same was true of all the words referring to such avocations as plumbers, bricklayers, carpenters and teamsters. Finally the doctor said: "I am looking for somebody to tune my piano." It proved to be the right cue. The patient was a piano tuner from one of the middle western states. After three weeks of questioning and prompting the doctor retraced with the man all his wanderings, made him remember his name and restored to him the complete mastery of all his mental faculties.

Afraid of Horse Shoes.

One of the most baffling cases Franz ever had was the man who not only was frightened every time he saw a horseshoe, but who was constantly possessed of the idea that it would be used as a means of killing him. Of course, the natural assumption was that he had been kicked by a horse or run over by one, and that the shock of the accident had unseated his reason. Working on this theory, the doctor wasted many precious sittings and used up hundreds of words without making any progress toward discovering the true cause of the trouble. It finally developed that the fellow had been struck on the head by a horseshoe, which had been nailed over a door for "good luck," and which had fallen on him as he entered a friend's house.

A direct opposite of the man who feared the open places was the woman who dreaded all closed or dark places. She had claustrophobia, and had developed the mania of staying out of doors, sleeping out of doors, and never entering the house unless compelled to do so. As is often the case with mothers, her trouble had come from an accident to her child. She had seen it, while playing in a big linen closet, have its hand caught and crushed by the closing of a heavy door, and the shock of the child's suffering preyed on her mind until she had come to fear anything with doors.

The "phobias" are the most troublesome curable cases with which the psychiatrist or alienist has to deal. If any of these patients had died while in the worst stages of their mental derangement, and autopsies had been performed on them, their brains would have appeared perfectly normal. Their sufferings do not come from any decay or disease of the brain tissues, and it has been demonstrated that were it not for the "word treatment," all that could be done for them would be to allow them to suffer for months and months, perhaps years, before they could recover. With the new method, however, they are often cured in marvelously short time.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1910.

THE REPUBLICAN CRISIS IN NEW YORK.

BEGINNING with the charge made by Senator Patrick Henry Conger that his colleague, Senator Jotham P. Allds, Republican majority leader of the New York Senate, had accepted a bribe in 1901 to use his influence against legislation hostile to certain bridge companies, the scandal in the Republican ranks in the Empire State has already assumed proportions which have brought about one of the most serious crises in the party's history.

The investigation conducted by the Senate into the bribery charge of Conger has extended far beyond the bounds originally planned for it, and not only have several other men prominent in the past and present councils of the party been implicated in this alleged graft, but a demand has arisen for a wholesale probing of legislative corruption during the whole period that the Republican party has had control of the political affairs of the state.

Although it yet remains for the defense to present its case in the Allds inquiry, the only testimony in his behalf thus far having been a flat denial by Senator Allds himself, that he ever talked with Conger about bridge legislation or accepted any money whatever, the character of the evidence produced in support of the Conger charge, whatever rebuttal evidence may be presented, will leave a pretty definite impression in the public mind that the bribery alleged actually occurred

THE PROBE MUST GO TO BOTTOM.

This much light on the conduct of political affairs will have a salutary effect in the end upon the Republican party in New State, even though its immediate effects appear disastrous. But the work will be only half done if the investigation is not permitted to ramify until it strikes at the very fountain sources of graft and corruption in the party and purges it of the rottenness with which, as is too well known, the whole structure of the Republican organization in New York has been permeated for years.

This is demanded by Governor Hughes and in his demand he has the support not only of the better element of the party in the state, but of President Taft, who, in his address at the recent Republican dinner in New York, said that he was the last one to advocate any halt in the prosecution and condemnation of Republicans, however prominent and powerful, whose conduct required criminal or other prosecution and condemnation. "It should be well understood," he added, "that any halt or failure to condemn corruption will be properly visited upon the party itself, however many good men it contains."

Governor Hughes on the same occasion declared that "this is not a time to retire in dismay from any disclosure. The party can stand anything except being untrue to itself and allying itself with the evil that may be in it." "We want party harmony," he said. "We want to work together as a party; but if we are to have party harmony that amounts to anything it must be the harmony of health; it must be the harmony of party soundness; it must be the party harmony that has nothing in it which fails to represent the demand of the people that the party—that the government of the state shall be pure and honest and faithful."

GOVERNOR NOW HAS THE UPPER HAND.

With the machine bosses, who during his two terms have fought Governor Hughes tooth and nail, equally determined to avert what they well realize could mean an end of their power, the situation marks the turning point in the long warfare between the executive and the organization. Heretofore the story of the Hughes administrations has been simply one long tale of measures and recommendations turned down, on one flimsy excuse or another, by the organization leaders, all in an effort to send him out of office with its grip on the State Government still firm; and it has been only by direct appeal to the people that the Governor has been able to accomplish any of the reforms he has sought to effect in the interest of the state as a whole.

Now the tables are turned, and in the hope thereby of averting the threatened disclosures and saving the party at the next election, the thoroughly frightened leaders of the opposition are willing to do anything the Governor wants, to get through any of his measures, if only he will help them. But it is hardly likely that this opportunity to regenerate the party and relegate the "old guard" to private life will be neglected. Certain it is that the Republican party in New York state will emerge the stronger from its long-dreaded trial of fire.

THE SWITCHMAN'S HIT.

FIGURES placed before the board that is arbitrating the controversy between the railroads entering Chicago and their switchmen, in support of the demand of the men for higher wages and better working condition, call attention to the risks that attach to this form of employment.

Citing a report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a representative of the switchmen stated that during the four years from 1905 to 1908 inclusive an average of one in every 138 trainmen employed on American railroads was killed annually and one in eight injured, proportions which stamp this industry as one of the most dangerous of any employing great numbers of men.

On the theory that the greater the risk the greater the remuneration should be, these figures suggest that the railroad employes are entitled to larger wages; but they are even more eloquent in emphasizing the need of throwing greater safeguards about men engaged in this kind of work.

Such a toll of dead and injured is in large part unnecessary. It is a huge economic waste. Moreover, in that the men can not hope to secure wages which would permit them to provide adequately for their families in case of death or incapacitation. Its indirect results are even more unfortunate than the immediate economic loss it involves.

William J. Calhoun will leave for his Chinese post March 15. That is, if he doesn't forget what happened to Crane.

BREAKFAST ON THE RUN.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

Here is a camping-out story which should be a prize winner

"Bill Julian relates that one morning he was frying some meat when a sudden wind from the northwest blew away his wood and set the grass on fire. In order to have breakfast ready for the boys, he carried the frying pan in his hand, holding it over the blaze of the grass as it receded from him and by the time the meat was ready to eat he was three miles from camp."

THE REWARDS OF THE ARCTIC.

From the Boston Transcript.

If Congress should confine its official recognition of Peary's exploit to granting him a gold medal suitably inscribed, he can console himself with the reflection that the splendid services of Dr. Kane to humanity and science brought him no richer reward. Kane and his men were voted the "Arctic medal" by Congress, and similar honors and decorations were showered on him by foreign nations and learned society. His second expedition which crowned him with scientific glory ruined Kane's already delicate health and greatly reduced his private means which he had put at risk. Kane died young, a victim of the Arctic.

The American promoters of the search for Franklin were inspired by zeal for humanity. So were the promoters of several other expeditions, but the British government, determined to leave nothing undone to incite research, offered the magnificent reward of £20,000 ($100,000) to anyone who should rescue Sir John and his party or definitely solve the mystery of his fate. Dr. Rae, the British explorer, obtained from Esquimos certain articles identified as the property of Franklin, and learned so much concerning the fate of Franklin and his men, that the government considered him and his companions entitled to half the reward, £10,000, which was accordingly paid them.

Congress and the government are both in difficulties in the matter of honoring Peary according to their measure of his deserts. The Senate would place him on the retired list as rear admiral, with $6,000 a year pay, virtually a pension to that amount. A subcommittee of the House naval committee antagonizes the Senate's course, while Secretary Meyer suggests a compromise by which Peary shall be retired as a civil engineer with the rank of rear admiral. To the civilian mind this may appear the difference between tweedledum and tweedledee, but to the naval it may be more satisfactory, since it puts the emolument clearly as a reward, not to an officer but to an explorer. However even then it seems open to the objection of bestowing the title of admiral on one who cannot ever "exercise the office."

AN EXPERT ESTIMATE.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Even those who have been indifferent to the question of conservation under the misapprehension that it was more or less an abstract issue must sit up and take notice of the testimony of the manager of the Guggenheim-Morgan syndicate before the Senate Committee on Territories regarding estimated value of the coal resources of one district in Alaska, that, by the way, in which the disputed Cunningham claims are located. This witness, whose position gives expert authority to his opinion, estimates the coal in the Bering River district, of which the Cunningham claims form a part, as having a gross value of $900,000,000, upon which he calculates a profit of $200,000,000. The Cunningham claims alone, he says, are worth $25,000,000.

Whether Glavis was right or wrong in his course there can be no question of the importance of the stake. If the law is evaded or violated in the grab for coal lands the practice ought to be stopped. If the laws as they stand do not sufficiently protect the public property they ought to be amended with that purpose in view. Procrastination simply increases the chances that when the country is aroused to the value of its resources and the need for protecting them there will be none to protect. While the controversy now being investigated goes to the root of the matter the issue is greater than the fate of any faction or official. If the testimony of the Alaskan syndicate manager does not arouse popular interest and stir Congress to action figures have ceased to be impressive.

THE MOB LESSON AT CAIRO.

From the Boston Transcript.

The lynching spirit grows by what it feeds on. The mob which sought to storm the jail and was defeated, was not moved by horror of a crime of peculiar atrocity such as has frequently roused a usually orderly community. The negro whom it sought to lynch had been arrested for snatching a pocketbook on the street, and nothing in Cairo's record suggests such acute moral sensibilities as would make this offence monstrous. The local judge in instructing the grand jury to make a searching inquiry of the attack on the jail, tore to pieces the contention that lynchers are actuated by a purpose to punish crime and add luster popular justice "under forms somewhat harsh," by pointing out since the successful lynching a few months ago five murders have occurred in Cairo without exciting its citizens to armed demonstration. There is no tyrant at once so bloody minded and capricious as the mob. Its [illegible] and only penalty in its code is murder.

Cairo is peculiarly situated to favor race wars. It is where three states are only prevented from coming together by intervening rivers. Two of these were in old times slave states, and southern Illinois had among its population many Southerners. It was a section that bore a good deal of watching during the Civil War. Some of the conditions of that conflict may still survive. A horde of "trifling" vagabond negroes drifts through Cairo and comes in contact with a white population among which are many with whom the instinct to visit the misdeeds of negroes with heavier penalties than are inflicted on white offenders is traditional. It is a danger spot, and it is gratifying to note that the Illinois authorities have rallied successfully to prevent a repetition of lynching atrocities.

The hero of this simple tale was born of parents beastly poor, they toiled and wrought without avail, to scrape a living from the moor. Our hero early made resolve that he would strive for greater heights, "let others in their ruts revolve, and carry on their puny fights, to gather wealth, to live in state, is all that makes this life worth while; and when I'm grown I'll pull my freight, and try to raise a mighty pile." His dreams came true, in every way, as visions came, in days of old; he took no time for rest or play, but gathered in fat yellow gold. By steady steps our hero rose, to heights of usefulness and fame; he put the kibosh on his foes, and held the aces in every game. He laughed at figtrees and at vines, and all domestic, trifling things, he owned some railways and some mines, and was among the copper kings. But why detail his glories so? Why should we try to count his dimes? It is enough for us to know he's been indicted twenty times.

SUCCESS IN LIFE.

WALT MASON.

The Daily Chit-Chat

What is this Ballinger-Pinchot affair anyway" I heard one young man say to another the other day as he spread open a newspaper in whose headlines Mr Ballinger and Mr. Pinchot were prominently mentioned.

"Oh, I don't know. Some kind of a fight about some lands somewhere," answered the second young man vaguely. "I haven't been following it at all."

Have you?

And did it ever occur to you that it was your duty to follow that and other things like it.

Some times I hear people usually young women—say in tones of evident pride, "I almost never read the newspapers."

I do not think that is a thing to be at all proud of.

I think that every man and woman in this land should read some things in the newspapers whether they read anything else or not.

And by "some things" I mean things like the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

I am afraind the two young men whose conversation I overheard are altogether too typical of the American newspaper reading public.

Present this public with a large and involved and more or less abstract question like the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, and it balks, skips it for the description of latest thing in murders or the interview with the latest novelty in defaulters, doesn't "try to follow it."

By and by this abstract question gets unpleasantly translated into terms of everyday life the price of timber goes up or the government fostered monopoly brings on a tremendous coal strike, and the public reads all about these concrete things avidly.

If it would only do its reading in the first instance it might not have to in the latter.

How many people cared to read and digest much of the tariff discussions?

When the information about the tariff is offered in tabloid form, in outlines or in headlines, so that he who runs may read, they may give it a little attention, but when it is presented in long paragraphs, unbroken by conversation, most of them promptly skip it

But later, when the tariff begins to get in its work and prices go up and there is a meat boycott, then the shoe begins to pinch, and the public begins to read every word about this concrete result of the abstraction which it ignored so blithely a few months ago.

"An ounce of prevention," etc, as maybe you've heard before and likewise an ounce of interest in the tariff would have been worth a pound of protest against higher prices; an ounce of interest in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy will be worth a pound of protest at shortage of coal or wood ten years from now.

Are you glad or sorry that you live in a democratic country, where public opinion, whatever some people say, is a great power?

If you are glad, suppose you show it by reading in the newspapers the chronicles of the important things of the day such as the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, and making your part of the public opinion a valuable one.

And if you are sorry, suppose you find a better country.

"WILL BEAT IT"

Young Kiefer Commments on Fine Weather as He Starts to Serve Jail Sentence.

"This law is a funny thing," said Roy Keifer yesterday as he stepped from a street car in charge od Evidence Officer C. B. Horn, bound for the county jail, where he had been sentenced for 15 days by Justice Irvin on a charge of threatening to kill L. Feldman, a junk yard proprietor. "It's a cinch that when I get out of jail this time I will get out and beat it for the wilds and enjoy some of this fine weather," stated young Kiefer, as he entered the county jail to serve his sentence. Keifer was only recently released from jail on a burglary charge, and has been familiar with the workings of the hand of justice for several years, during which his family has gone to jail in installments.

In the trial at Justice Irvin's court yesterday afternoon Keifer pleaded not guilty, claiming that he did not threaten to kill Feldman when he was refused the loan of $1, but that he "only threatened to get even" if Feldman would not help him out of his financial straits.

PARBULA APPEALS CASE TO THE COUNTY COURT

Police court was revived yesterday after six days of apparent peace. Four vagrants were fined and jailed for drunkenness and disturbance, and John Parbula, who was arrested late Wednesday night charged with creating a disturbance along Colorado avenue, pleaded not guilty and took an appeal to the county court. This is the first appeal in a drunkenness and disturbance case that has been taken in the magistrate's court for many months. Parbula claims that he will fight the case as far as his finances will allow, and also claims that he is being "browbeaten" because he has not as much money as some of his enemies have.

GANS SAYS THAT JEFFRIES WILL BE IN SAME BOAT WITH FITZ ON JULY 4

Recently a flash came to this country informing us that Bob Fitzsimmons, one of the craftiest and best fighters that ever stepped into a ring, went down to defeat, and that the epitaph was "He could not come back."

"This same expr sion will be written about James J. Jeffries on the night of July 4, after his battle with Jack Johnson for the championship of the world is over," says Joe Gans. "For, no matter how highly they sound the praises of Jeff now, when he clashes with Johnson he will meet his conqueror. It will be a case of science against brute strength, and in this affair the science of Johnson will come out on top.

"I want to say that I am not favoring Johnson because we are of the same color. If I thought that Jeffries could whip Johnson I would be one of the first to express my convictions. I have been in the game too long to allow sentiment to cut any figure. It's simply a case of which man I consider the superior, and my choice is Johnson. Again, with me there is no such thing as the color line. There is no doubt that all fair-minded men will agree with me that a fighter is a fighter pure and simple, no matter whether he is white or black, so, therefore, no one must think that I am prejudiced.

"When Johnson returned after beating Burns, every one got excited and shouted, 'Jeff will have to lick Johnson and bring back the title to the white race.' There was a day when he might have done so. But now it is entirely different. In his prime Jeffries was a bunch of muscle and bones that no man could hurt. He has had years of rest and, at present, the retired champion is simply a mass of soft flesh that is in such a condition that it will be impossible for him to get back to the old days. Jeff will train hard, but nature has had such an easy time that it will not respond sufficiently to the treatment, and when he faces Johnson he will be far from the Jeff of old.

"Jeffries may manage to get rid of a lot of overweight, and may appear as fine as a fiddle when he sits in his corner, but take it from me, that old vitality which is absolutely necessary for any kind of a battle will be missing, and then what can you expect?

"It is almost a positive fact that all the folks who refuse to give Johnson a chance with Jeff simply figure through prejudice against the colored race. He can't hit, he always backs up, he has not got a punch, and is always stalling, and a few more things they charge to Johnson. Now, in my estimation, and you know that I have seen them all, I think that Johnson is one of the greatest fighters of the last 20 years. Jim Corbett is admitted to have been a marvelous fighter. As good as Jim was, I claim that Johnson is just a little better than Jim at his best. Many will disagree with this statement, but I know a lot of inside dope regarding Johnson.

"Johnson will enter the ring with no fear of losing to Jeffries. That, you must admit, is a great asset in a championship battle. In fact, he figures that this fight will be the easiest in his career. This may not please Jeff's admirers, but it is the plain truth. When they start you can go broke that Jack will use all his cleverness to prevent Jeff landing in the early rounds his terrible right that has wrecked so many good men. That means that Johnson will keep on the defensive until he thinks Jeff has lost a lot of his strength and is having trouble with his wind.

"When Jack is satisfied that he holds the upper hand, then he will change his tactics and try to beat Jeff down with those sharp upper cuts and stinging jabs that will take the big fellow's energy away and leave him a mark for his colored rival.

BIG MATCH TONIGHT

Dr. Roller Will Grapple With Frenchman in Denver—Both Men Are Confident.

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, March 3.—Raoul de Rouen, the giant Frenchman, accompanied by his manager, R. H. Fitzsimmons, arrived from Chicago yesterday, prepared for his wrestling contest with Dr. Roller, the Seattle physician, tomorrow night at the auditorium. The big grappler does not talk English, but, through his manager, he made it known that he expected little trouble in winning the Denver bout.

As to the rough work De Rouen has been accused of resorting to in his mat contests, Fitzsimmons says there will be none of it in tomorrow's struggle. De Rouen is rough when his opponents are rough, but Dr. Roller being a gentlemanly wrestler, there will be no occasion for these tactics.

Dr. Roller appeared in a handicap bout at Fort Collins with Joe McCray last night and got but one fall. He agreed to throw the Coloradoan twice in 30 minutes.

TWO TEAMS GAIN LEAD BY SPRINTING

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 3.—The first break in the ranks of the six-day bicycle racers occurred tonight when after over an hour's solid sprinting, the De Mara-Stein and Hill Drobach teams succeeded in gaining the coveted lap. Their record at midnight after 40 hours' racing was 924 miles, one lap. The rest of the field has covered 924 miles.

BILL BAILEY A COMER

Bill Bailey of the St. Louis Browns, who is looked upon as one of the best southpaws in the American league, and expected to do great things for St. Louis this summer, has not yet reached his majority. Bailey lacks a few months of being 21 years of age. He is one of the youngest stars in the American league, despite the fact that he has seen three years of service, as a regular part of the time and a bench warmer the rest.

Bailey was secured by McAleer from the Texas league when he was just 17. Few players break into the major leagues when so young. Although possessing everything in the way of curves and speed, Bailey has not met with much success due to poor health. He is taking the best of care of himself this winter, and all critics look for him to have a big year.

STANFORD MAY CLASH WITH BOULDER MAY 28

Special to The Gazette.

BOULDER, March 3.—Graduate Manager Moorhead of the University of Colorado today received a letter from the athletic board of Stanford university asking for a dual track meet in Boulder on May 28. Moorhead will confer with the athletic board before accepting the offer.

Dad Moulton's men will come through Colorado en route to the Chicago conference, to be held in Chicago the first week in June. Last year they secured a date with Colorado, and the Centennial men took the honors by five points.

In all probability, Colorado will accept the offer. It is a matter of paying Stanford a guarantee, and the new student ticket innovation puzzles Moorhead not a little. All students who are members of the Associated students hold tickets which admit them to all university activities, and it is doubtful if enough could be taken in at the gate to pay the expenses of the meet. It is thought, however, that the board will vote the deficit out of the A. S. C. U. treasury.

There is some talk around the campus about Colorado entering the conference meet at Chicago. Last year Clarence McCutcheon took first honors in the 220 hurdles and thus gained for Colorado her first distinction east of Nebraska in athletics. It is probable that the student body will make an effort to repeat the performance of last year, and send two men to represent the Centennials.

LEADERS IN BOWLING TOURNAMENT ARE UNCHANGED

DETROIT, March 3.—The leaders in the three events of the annual tournament of the American Bowling congress remained unchanged as the result of today's play. New faces appeared, however, in second place in the five-men teams and singles. It is almost certain that all American Bowling congress records will be broken. The Libertys of Rochester, N. Y., proved best of the first squad in the five-men event, rolling 2,789, 14 pins below the 2,803 of the leading Colonials of Madison, Wis.

The Bonds of Columbus, O., had the best score of the second squad of five. Under the leadership of Albert "Kip" Selbach, the veteran baseball player, the Bonds rolled 2,753, which gave them temporary possession of fourth place.

Larry Sutton, individual champion of 1909, was beaten.

Dressman of Detroit was the leader of the four squads which shot in the singles. His 641 came within one pin of tieing George Owens of Madison, Wis., for the lead.

SPORT JUDGMENTS

That Colorado Springs will have the best baseball season since Western league days is evident to all who are following closely the preparations of Coughlin's Zoos. Starting the season off with an exhibition game with Hughey Duffy's White Sox, one of the best baseball aggregations that has ever been seen here, the Zoos will get the strongest baseball machines that can be secured. Owner Coughlin has arranged for practice games at Zoo park with every Western league team. This in itself is enough to insure a crackerjack team here. It is said, also, that Owner Coughlin will put the Zoo ball park in first-class condition.

It is now two days since Jimmie Mack posted $100 with the writer for a fight with the Cohen of Cripple Creek or Tim Tillman of this city. Mack's forfeit was put up especially for Cohen, but he is willing to let it stand for a go with Tillman. Cohen has done considerable talking about a fight with Mack, and Tillman has intimated that he was ready to fight whenever Mack put up his money.

EXCITING BASEBALL GAME

In one of the most interesting indoor baseball games played at the Y. M. C. A. this season the Golden Cycle team last night triumphed over the Twentieth Century nine 14 to 7. The Twentieth Century aggregation started off with a dash, scoring five runs in the first three innings. The Golden Cycle lads played steadily. Heavy hitting and exceptional fielding were features of the game.

SENATORS GET PARK

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Washington Baseball club this afternoon purchased outright the grounds on Seventh street, near Florida avenue, which it has used for five years, for a price not stated. With the purchase goes a strip of land back of the centerfield fence, which will be included in the park, making it one of the deepest in the country. Plans for a thoroughly modern plant, to be erected for next year, are already formulating. The grounds are noted for their accessibility to the center of the city and rapid dispersion of crowds.

CHALMERS OFFICIAL PATHFINDER FOR 1910 GLIDDEN TOUR

After a careful consideration of the competitive proposals submitted by a number of manufacturers for the privilege of furnishing the official pathfinding car for the 1910 Glidden tour, the contest board has awarded this privilege to the Chalmers Motor company of Detroit. The Chalmers car which is to lay the route will commence its work ... time during the month of April as soon as the roads are in a fit condition to determine the most practicable route.

Intending entrants in the tour should not be misled by the ... any self-appointed or unofficial pathfinding car making an unseasonable run, but should wait for the reliable and authentic information which will be contained in the reports of the "official pathfinder." The contest board also contemplates changing the tentative route in some of its important particulars.

weather and rains of the last three days turned the little stream that flows through the canon into a torrent. As the stream rose and water undermined the debris it is possible that many bodies dropped into the river and were carried away by the swift current.

Tonight a fearful blizzard is raging. The addition of new snow to the covering that lies 18 feet deep on the mountain sides, increases the danger of more slides and adds to the peril of the rescuers.

If the searchers find the Pullman cars intact they may take out many bodies in a short time but it is likely that the dead are strewn through acres of debris. At the present rate of progress it would take weeks to recover all those killed. After the track is opened derricks will be used to lift the huge trees and boulders. There are no coffins at Wellington, and the dead, wrapped in blankets, lie on the snow, well preserved.

Eight Postal Employes Killed

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Eight out of nine employes of the railway postal service who were aboard the Great Northern mail train that was swept into a canon near Wellington, Wash., on March 1, lost their lives and the ninth was injured seriously. Telegrams to the postoffice department indicate the deaths of Clerks John D. Fox, Richard B. Bogart, John C. Tucker. Substitutes Hiram Towsley and Charles S. Ladu and Mail Weighers Fred J. Bohn and Leo J. Ahern.

Another Fatal Slide.

ROSLYN, Wash., March 3.—Word has reached here that the Skookum mining company's camp, 20 miles north of here, was wiped out by an avalanche Tuesday morning. Of 15 men in the camp all escaped except Superintendent E. L. Simmons.

PRIDE OF CRIPPLE CREEK WORTHY OF ITS NAME

Fred Johnson and Associates Are Developing a Great Mine on Ironclad Hill.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 3.—Fred Johnson and his associates, principally Denver men, who have worked for several years and spent thousands of dollars on the Pride of Cripple Creek property on Ironclad hill, adjoining the celebrated W. P. H. and Forest Queen mines, are reputed to have one of the best propositions now in the district. Mr. Johnson is loath to give out any information regarding the mine, but it is learned on the best authority that there is several hundred thousand dollars now in sight in this mine.

A small ore shoot was encountered several months ago, and development work was commenced in earnest. Only the ore mined in the course of development work was shipped, and it gave splendid returns, running frequently several ounces. It is declared by those is over six feet in width; in fact, the exact width is not known for the reason that an upraise has been extended through the ore body from the 600-foot level for a distance of 200 feet, and neither wall has been found. This ore will undoubtedly give average returns with but little sorting of $30 in gold to the ton. Frequently specks of sylvanite are to be found in the ore.

The management is playing the safe and sane idea in developing the mine and determining fully what amount of ore there is before going ahead and expending any considerable sum in sinking improvements. That the property will require a larger and better plant of machinery eventually to handle the ore is not doubted, but such improvements will not be made until the ore shoots have been fully exploited.

While very little is heard about the Pride of Cripple Creek, it is generally conceded that this mine is now one of the best leases in the district, and that it will be a heavy producer and shipper within a few months is a foregone conclusion.

Pay $2,500 Royalties in February.

The Gold Dollar and Mabel M. property, located on the east slope of Beacon hill, continues to produce monthly a splendid tonnage. During February there was shipped out by the ten sets of lessees working 35 cars of ore. This ore had an average value of about one ounce, and the company realized the handsome sum of $2,500 from royalties. The shaft is down to a depth of 600 feet, and sinking will probably not be attempted until the deep drainage tunnel drains this section of the camp.

Very little work is being done on company account, but what is done is accomplished on the returns from ore shipped on company account.

The producer of the greatest amount of ore from this well known property is the Union Leasing company, which took a virgin piece of ground a few years ago and sunk a shaft and opened up some good ore bodies. According to unofficial reports, the lease held by the Union company, and which expires some time in July, will not be renewed. This property will probably be worked by the company, while the old workings will all be leased to responsible parties.

BEARS HAVE INNING ON CHICAGO BOARD

Flood Market With Offerings and Force Decline of Grain and Provisions Materially.

CHICAGO, March 3. Bears had all the best of it in the grain pits today, flooding the markets with offerings and hammering prices down to a finish, 1⅜ to 2⅛c off for wheat, 1⅜ to 1⅝c down for corn, and ⅛ to 1¼c lower for oats. Prices were lower in all provisions, lard and ribs closing from 15 to 17½c off and pork declining to a close from 40 to 90c down.

Large offerings of wheat gave the bears early control. The weak start was rapidly changed to a decided one, which bore May down from $1.14⅝ to 1.13. The close was weak, with May 1⅜@1½c off, at $1.13⅛.

Corn fell off throughout the day, liquidation being the moving factor. May fell off from 65¾ to 67¼, the other futures declining in a less degree. The oats market suffered a severe setback, dropping from 2 to 4 cents. The trade was demoralized and No. 2 white sold at 46c. The close was weak and near the low point, with May 1¾ off, at 47¼.

Trade in oats developed into a steady falling off as the day progressed. September resisted the decline more than the nearby months, although it, too, fell off and closed on the low point, 2½ off, at 40⅝. May dropped from 46⅜ to 45⅛. The close was weak, with May 1¾ off, at 45¾.

In provisions, pork touched $24.42½, 67½c below yesterday. Closing figures for May were: Pork, $24.67½, 45c off; lard, $12.42½ @12.45, 15@17½c down, and ribs, $12.77½@12.80, 15@17½c low.

STOCKS ARE LIFTED TO A HIGHER LEVEL

Steel Is Conspicuous Strength in Market—Bonds Irregular.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Operators in stocks still found their advantage today in working for higher prices. The supply of stocks for sale was increased as the level of the market rose and the profits on speculative holdings become more attractive.

United States Steel was the spine of the market. The stock was taken in very large amounts, to the accompaniment of various rumors and suggestions, put out without stated authority. For instance, it was asserted that extra dividends would be declared in addition to the existing 1 per cent quarterly rate, providing, it was plausibly added, no disaster should overtake the trade during the current year.

Conditions in steel were declared to be improving, and large orders from the railroads for new equipment were adduced as specific evidence of this. Something was made, also, of the personality of recently-elected directors of the corporation, as showing a representation on that board of independent steel companies, that argues a further harmonization of the control of the industry. The news of the withdrawal of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., from the Standard Oil board was cited to prove that his withdrawal from the United States Steel board need have no sinister significance.

The mood of hopefulness was fostered by the increasing number of bond issues being offered by bankers. These were taken as an index of an improvement in the investment situation and as a promise of a fostering care of the securities markets on the part of the banking powers. The resources thus supplied to the corporations also are expected to keep up the consumptive demand for materials of the various sorts to be used in the pursuit of improvements and extensions. It does not detract greatly from the influence of this factor that stimulation of the stock market might be resorted to in order to further the success of this new financing.

The foreign exchange situation has a bearing also on this investment situation and the money market outlook. Abundant money conditions are reported from Paris, but there were heavy withdrawals of gold for export from the Bank of England today. February entries of imports at the New York customs house were $11,000,000 in excess of last year, showing the persistence of the balance of the merchandise movement against this country.

The destructive storm blockades in the northwest were without apparent influence.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,780,000. United States 3's declined ¾ per cent on call.

SHEEP REACH NEW MARK IN HIGH-PRICE MARATHON

CHICAGO, March 3.—Sheep sold here today at $8.10 a hundred weight, the highest mark ever recorded in the history of the market. The animals, it was understood, were purchased for the use of the British army, and will be shipped to the Bermuda islands.

SHE is very famous, very young and a very tiny actress, and she likes to play baseball and go in wading. She was all tired out last Spring, so she went out into the Sunset Country to play. Clara E. Laughlin went with her and now tells of this enchanting trip in the March LADIES' WORLD.

In this number begins Grace MacGowan Cooke's new and great serial, "A Fall and a Rebuilding" a story of compelling power and inspiring human interest the story of the magazine year.

Dr. Henry Dwight Chapin, the great specialist, contributes the first of a series of invaluable articles on the prevention of disease "Milk and the Child."

In the departments of the March number look for and read "Meals Without Meat" particularly pertinent just at this time.

In the harvest of death the St. Paul mine, with 300 to 350 dead, ranks next to the highest if not the last fatal of recent disasters in our coal fields—the highest of any in the west. At Monongah, W. Va., 300 men were killed; at Harwick, Pa., 158; at D..., Pa., 2..; at Marianna, Pa., 2..; at Lick Branch, W. Va., 177. In the year 1907 our American coal mines exacted a death toll of 3,125 lives and 30,000 all told in the last two decades.
